The risks described below are relevant to the industries our Company is engaged in, our Company and our Equity Shares. To obtain a complete understanding of our Company, you should read this section in conjunction with the chapters titled “Our Business” and “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations” beginning on page numbers 145 and 213 respectively, of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus as well as the other financial and statistical information contained in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus. Prior to making an investment decision, prospective investors should carefully consider all of the information contained in the section titled “Financial Information” beginning on page number 208 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.*

If any one or more of the following risks as well as other risks and uncertainties discussed in the Draft Red Herring Prospectus were to occur, our business, financial condition and results of our operation could suffer material adverse effects and could cause the trading price of our Equity Shares and the value of investment in the Equity Shares to materially decline which could result in the loss of all or part of investment. Prospective investors should pay particular attention to the fact that our Company is incorporated under the laws of India, and is therefore subject to a legal and regulatory environment that may differ in certain respects from that of other countries.

This Draft Red Herring Prospectus also contains forward looking statements that involve risks and uncertainties. Our actual results could differ materially from those anticipated in these forward-looking statements as a result of many factors, including the considerations described below and elsewhere in the Draft Red Herring Prospectus. These risks are not the only ones that our Company face. Unless the context requires otherwise, the financial Information of our Company has been derived from the Restated Financial Information. The risk factors are classified as under for the sake of better clarity and increased understanding.

INTERNAL RISK FACTORS

- 1. We are highly dependent on certain key customers for a substantial portion of our revenues. Loss of relationship with any of these customers may have a material adverse effect on our profitability and results of operations.

We derive a significant portion of our revenue from relatively a differentiated group of customers. In particular, our top, top five and top ten customers together contribute a substantial share of our total revenue from operations. We do not have long-term commitments with all of these customers, and there is no assurance that they will continue to place orders at the same level or on similar terms. Loss of any key customer, reduction or cancellation of orders, non-renewal of existing arrangements or renegotiation of terms may have a material adverse impact on our revenue, cash flows and profitability. The tables below set forth the revenue contributed by our top, top five and top ten customers as a percentage of our total revenue for the periods indicated:

(Rs. in Lakhs)

Particulars	2024-2025	2023-2024	2022-2023
Revenue from top 1 customer	1747.56	1911.28	2,344.90
Percentage from top 1 customer	36.76%	46.07%	51.76%
Revenue from top 5 customers	4,140.28	3,682.70	4,037.18
Percentage of revenue from operations	87.09%	88.76%	89.11 %
Revenue from top 10 customers	4,654.06	4,057.51	4,429.62
Percentage of revenue from operations	97.9%	97.8%	97.78%

Note: % of revenue from operations

The customers represent the top customers for each of the respective fiscal year may not necessarily be the same customers across the three fiscal years.

We operate in the and OEM segments, where our business is directly linked to our customers' ability to successfully market and sell products under their brands. Any decline in their market share, failure of their products to gain acceptance, or reputational or financial setbacks faced by them may also affect our business. In some cases, to retain key customers, we may be required to offer pricing or commercial terms that could strain our margins or resources.

While we have not experienced termination of any major customer relationships in the past three years, changes in customer procurement policies or adverse developments in their businesses could materially affect our results of operations. However, we cannot guarantee that the performance of our key business segments, including under the OEM and models, will continue at historical levels. To avoid the risk of overdependence on key customers, we are actively pursuing a customer diversification. This includes expanding our customer base and enhancing customer relationships.

2. The Company is dependent on a few suppliers for purchases of raw materials. The loss of any of these suppliers may affect our business operations.

We procure a significant portion of our raw materials, particularly polymers and related chemical inputs, from a limited group of suppliers. While we have established relationships with these suppliers, we do not have long-term or exclusive supply agreements with all of them. The tables below set forth the supplier concentration for the periods indicated-

(Rs. in Lakhs)

Particulars	2024-2025	2023-2024	2022-2023
Purchase from top 1 supplier	785.63	819.91	1077.76
Percentage of total raw material consumed	21.53%	23.94%	27.80%
Purchase from top 5 suppliers	1,676.27	1796.87	1,893.87
Percentage of total raw material consumed	45.94%	52.46%	48.85%
Purchase from top 10 suppliers	2,290.65	2,411.07	2435.14
Percentage of total raw material consumed	62.77%	70.39%	62.82%

The suppliers represent the top suppliers for each of the respective fiscal year may not necessarily be the same suppliers across the three fiscal years.

We cannot assure that we will be able to get the same quantum and quality of supplies, or any supplies at all, and the loss of supplies from one or more of them may adversely affect our purchases of stock and ultimately our revenue and results of operations. However, the composition and amount of purchase from these suppliers might change as we continue seeking new suppliers for our product for better quality and price in the normal course of business. Though we believe that we will not face substantial challenges in maintaining our business relationship with them or finding new suppliers, there can be no assurance that we will be able to maintain long term relationships with such suppliers or find new suppliers in time.

Further, any failure or delay by third-party suppliers or manufacturers to deliver equipment, materials, or services as agreed under contract may require us to make alternative arrangements, which could lead to additional costs, delays in execution, or reduced profitability on affected projects. As such, any disruption in supply, delay in delivery, or deterioration in commercial terms could adversely impact our procurement capabilities, production schedules, and cost structures. However, to ensure smooth operations the Company is engaging in identifying and qualifying alternative and backup suppliers across different geographies to ensure continuity of supply.

3. We require certain approvals and licenses in the ordinary course of business and the failure to successfully obtain/renew such registrations would adversely affect our operations, results of operations and financial condition.

We are governed by various laws and regulations for our business and operations. We are required, and will continue to be required, to obtain and hold relevant licenses, approvals and permits at state and central government levels for doing our business. The approvals, licenses, registrations and permits obtained by us may contain conditions, some of which could be onerous.

Further, we have applied for certain approvals, licenses, registrations and permits, which are necessary for us to continue our business. For instance, our Company has applied for registration under Maharashtra Shops and Establishments (Regulations of Employment and Conditions of Service) Act, 2017. We cannot assure that such license would be granted to us against the applications made.

These laws and regulations governing us are increasingly becoming stringent and may in the future create substantial compliance or liabilities and costs. While we endeavor to comply with applicable regulatory requirements, it is possible that such compliance measures may restrict our business and operations, result in increased cost and onerous compliance measures, and an inability to comply with such regulatory requirements may attract penalty. For further details regarding the material approvals, licenses, registrations and permits, which are, pending receipt or renewal,

Furthermore, we cannot assure you that the approvals, licenses, registrations and permits issued to us will not be suspended or revoked in the event of non-compliance or alleged non-compliance with any terms or conditions thereof, or pursuant to any regulatory action. Any suspension or revocation of any of the approvals, licenses, registrations and permits that has been or may be issued to us may affect our business and results of operations.

However, the Company is putting efforts in tracking all required approvals, licenses, and renewal deadlines by maintaining a calendar and a dedicated team is responsible for monitoring this calendar, ensuring timely submissions, and maintaining close communication with regulatory authorities to avoid delays or lapses. This helps prevent disruptions to operations due to expired or missing licenses.

For further details, please refer to the chapter titled “Government and Other Approvals” beginning on page 227 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

4. We have experienced negative cash flows in relation to our investing activities and financing activities for the Fiscal Year 2025, 2024 and 2023. Any negative cash flows in the future would adversely affect our results of operations and financial condition.

As per our Restated Financial Statements, our Company has experienced negative cash flows from certain activities in some of the previous financial years. Negative cash flows may indicate that our internal accruals are not always sufficient to meet our investing, and financing requirements. The details of our cash flows are as follows:

(Rs. in lakhs)
Particulars	2024-2025	2023-2024	2022-2023
Net Cash Flow from/ (used in) Operating Activities	695.27	286.02	774.82
Net Cash generated from/ (used in) investing activities	155.94	95.81	(190.73)
Net Cash Flow from/ (used in) Financing Activities	(669.73)	(405.57)	(502.42)

We have generated positive net cash flows from operating activities in preceding three Financial Year i.e., FY 2024-2025, 2023-2024 and 2022-2023, we had also recorded negative cash flows from financing activities in all the preceding three Financial Year and negative cash flow from investing activities in FY 2022-2023 due to repayment of long- and short-term borrowings, which may reflect the strain on our cash reserves and funding flexibility.

Sustained or increased negative cash flows could adversely impact our ability to meet working capital requirements, discharge financial obligations, undertake capital and operational expenditures, or otherwise manage and sustain our business activities.

Any negative cash flow in future could adversely affect our operations and financial conditions and the trading price of our Equity Shares. For further details, please refer to the chapter titled “Financial Information” on page 208 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus. While challenges may persist in certain periods due to market dynamics or seasonal fluctuations, the Company remains committed to improving its cash flow position through disciplined financial management and operational improvements.

7. Our Company generates majority of its revenue from manufacturing i.e. by way of injection moulding. If our customers do not continue to outsource manufacturing, or if there is a downward trend in OEM business, our sales could be adversely affected.

Our business model is significantly reliant on manufacturing by way of injection moulding, for OEMs outsourcing the manufacturing of specialized plastic components. Any adverse change in this outsourcing trend may significantly affect our business operations. If OEMs choose to undertake in-house design and/ or manufacturing due to strategic, cost, technological, or supply-chain considerations, the demand for our services may decline. Similarly, consolidation among OEM customers or a reduction in their order volumes could adversely impact our sales.

Further, the outsourcing decisions of our customers are influenced by factors beyond our control, such as global cost competitiveness, technological advancements in automated moulding, regulatory changes, or shifts in trade and procurement policies. Our dependency on these outsourcing arrangements makes us vulnerable to fluctuations in customer preferences, pricing pressures, and changes in the overall industry dynamics. A downward trend in outsourcing within the plastic injection moulding sector, or reduced reliance on third-party suppliers, could materially and adversely affect our revenues, profitability, and growth prospects.

8. Any increase in the cost of our raw material or a shortfall in the supply of our raw materials including volatility in the pricing and availability of polymer-based raw materials, may adversely affect the pricing and supply of our products and have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition

The success of our operations depends on a variety of factors, including our ability to source raw materials at competitive prices with the desired quality & quantity. Our raw material involves direct purchase of a majority of our raw material requirements from suppliers. While we believe we have developed a strong relationship with suppliers, we have not entered into any formal supply contracts with the suppliers. Also, the price at which we procure such supplies, may fluctuate from time to time in the absence of a formal supply contract. For the year ended 2025, 2024 and 2023, our cost of materials consumed was Rs. 3,332.65 lakhs, 3,160.30 lakhs and 3,430.86 lakhs, representing 70.11%, 76.18% and 75.73% of our revenue from operations, respectively.

In addition, a significant portion of our raw material requirement comprises polymer-based materials such as Polypropylene, ABS, Nylon, and Polycarbonate. These materials are petroleum derivatives and are therefore directly influenced by fluctuations in global crude oil prices and refinery outputs. As a result, our procurement costs may be highly sensitive to global energy markets and commodity cycles.

Also, polymers used in our manufacturing processes may also be subject to import duties, currency exchange volatility, and domestic supply chain limitations. As we do not have long-term fixed-price contracts with our polymer suppliers, we remain exposed to price movements which can affect our margins. Unanticipated spikes in polymer costs, or delays in procurement due to geopolitical tensions or global supply shortages, may lead to increased working capital requirements and production delays.

9. Our business requires significant working capital, and any inability to secure adequate funding or delays in collections could adversely affect our operations, profitability and financial condition.

Our business is working capital intensive on account of the nature of our industry, procurement cycles, extended trade receivables, and inventory holding period. As per our Restated Financial Statements, our working capital requirements were Rs. 268.89 Lakhs, Rs. 223.29 Lakhs, and Rs. 276.81 Lakhs for Fiscals 2025, 2024, and 2023, respectively. For Fiscal 2026 and the six-month period ended September 2026, our working capital requirements are estimated at Rs. 696.88 Lakhs and Rs. 1,227.68 Lakhs, respectively. From the Net Proceeds of the Issue, we propose to utilize an aggregate amount of Rs. 1,300.00 Lakhs towards funding these requirements, of which Rs. 650.00 lakhs are expected to be utilized in Fiscal 2026 and the balance Rs. 650.00 lakhs by September 2026. The remaining requirement, if any, will be met through internal accruals and/or equity reserves. For further details, please refer to the chapter titled “Objects of the Issue” beginning on page 91 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

Our working capital requirements may further increase if we undertake larger or more complex projects, or if there are extended payment cycles or delays in project execution due to client-side or regulatory factors. Any inability to secure sufficient additional funding in a timely manner may lead to project execution delays, defaults in payments to vendors and suppliers, or may require us to scale down our operations, all of which could materially and adversely affect our business, cash flows and financial condition.

A significant portion of our working capital is tied up in trade receivables, including progress payments and retention money. There is no assurance that our clients will pay these amounts on time or that we will be able to manage bad debts effectively. Any deterioration in our receivables position could adversely affect our liquidity, increase our reliance on external debt, and negatively impact our operations and financial flexibility. However, we monitor our working capital cycle and maintain adequate credit lines to support operational liquidity. We optimise inventory levels and receivables management to ensure smooth cash flows, enabling us to meet financial obligations and sustain business operations effectively.

10. Our significant revenue is generated from operations in the state of Maharashtra. Any disruption in these operations, whether due to regulatory changes, economic conditions, or unforeseen events in the said state, could significantly impact our financial performance and future prospects.

A significant percentage of our revenue is generated from operations in the state of Maharashtra. For the detailed information with respect to our geography wise revenue bifurcation, please refer to the chapter titled ‘Our Business’ beginning on page 145 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus. Any adverse developments in this region, including but not limited to economic slowdowns, changes in government policies, labour disruptions, infrastructure challenges, epidemics, lockdowns, curfews, or natural disasters, could negatively impact our ability to conduct business effectively. If we experience prolonged disruptions or difficulties in these operations, it could materially and adversely affect our financial performance and future growth prospects.

The table below illustrates our revenue dependence on state of Maharashtra over the past three financial years:

(Rs. in Lakhs)

State	2024-25		2023-2024		2022-2023
	Revenue	% of Total Revenue	Revenue	% of Total Revenue	Revenue	% of Total Revenue
Maharashtra	4,339.3	91.28	3,924.47	94.59	4344.66	95.86

We are working to expand our presence in other states by exploring new distribution channels, strengthening our dealer and customer network, and participating in industry events to reach untapped markets.

11. Possible implications of timing of redemption and allotment of debentures under the Master Business Separation and Shareholders Agreement

Pursuant to the Master Business Separation and Shareholders Agreement dated July 15, 2021, our Company undertook certain corporate actions, including (i) the redemption of specified shares on September 28, 2021; and (ii) the allotment of unsecured, zero coupon, non-convertible redeemable debentures on December 10, 2021. We note that the redemption preceded the formal issuance of the debentures. While these actions were undertaken in accordance with the terms of the agreement, any perception of irregularity in the sequencing or timing of such corporate actions may attract scrutiny from regulatory authorities.

In the event any regulatory authority were to question the validity, sequencing or accounting treatment of these actions, our Company may be exposed to potential penalties or adverse directions. Further, any such challenge could affect our reported financial position, compliance track record and governance perception, which in turn may have a material adverse impact on our business, results of operations, financial condition and reputation.

However, there are currently no inquiries, proceedings, or disputes initiated by any regulatory authority in connection with such redemption or issuance. The Company has made full and transparent disclosures of these corporate actions in its financial statements and in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus. Accordingly, management believes that the sequencing of these actions does not affect the enforceability of stakeholder rights or obligations under the agreement.

12. Instances of Non-Compliance with Regulatory Requirements and Clerical Errors Could Subject us to Regulatory Action and Penalties

Our Company is subject to various regulatory and statutory compliance requirements under applicable laws, including the Companies Act, 2013, rules issued by the Registrar of Companies (RoC), the Income Tax Act, Goods and Services Tax (GST) regulations, labour laws, environmental regulations, and other applicable industry-specific regulations. While we strive to maintain full compliance, there may have been inadvertent delays, omissions, or clerical errors in filings, disclosures, or regulatory submissions in the ordinary course of business.

Such non-compliances or procedural lapses, including inaccuracies in statutory filings, disclosures, charge registrations, audit documentation, or corporate governance requirements, even if unintentional, could attract scrutiny from regulatory authorities. While no significant penalties may have been levied to date, we cannot assure you that no regulatory action will be taken against us in the future for any past or future non-compliances.

Any such action or penalty could adversely affect our reputation, subject us to financial liabilities, and divert management attention from operations. Further, continued compliance lapses could impact our ability to raise capital, bid for contracts, or maintain statutory approvals, which may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, and results of operations.

13. We may be unable to sufficiently obtain, maintain, protect, or enforce our intellectual property and other proprietary rights.

As on date of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, we have not obtained registration for our logo  under the Trademarks Act, 1999. Any failure to register may affect our right to use such trademark in future. If we are unable to register or remove objections to the trademark application, and if our unregistered trademark are registered in favour of or used by a third party in India or abroad, we may not be able to claim registered ownership of such trademark and consequently, we may not be able to seek remedies for infringement of those trademarks by third parties other than relief against passing off by other entities, causing damage to our business prospects, reputation and goodwill in India and abroad. Further, our efforts to protect our intellectual property in India and abroad may not be adequate and any third-party claim on any of our unprotected intellectual property may lead to erosion of our business value and our reputation, which could adversely affect our operations.

The following table sets forth the details of trademark application that is currently pending or have been objected to by the relevant authority:

Sr. No.	Description	Logo/Wordmark	Class	Registration Number	Application/Registration Date	Current Status
1.		Atharva Polyplast	20	7034012	May 29, 2025	Formalities Chk Pass

Further, our efforts to protect our intellectual property in India and abroad may not be adequate, and any third-party claim or use of our unprotected intellectual property may lead to erosion of business value and goodwill, which could adversely affect our operations. Third parties may also infringe or copy our registered or applied-for trademarks, and we may not always be able to detect such unauthorized use or take timely and effective steps to enforce our rights.

For further details please refer to the chapter titled “Our Business - Intellectual Property” and “Government and Other Approvals- Intellectual Property Related Approvals” beginning on pages 145 and 227, respectively, of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

14. We are heavily dependent on our Promoters, Key Managerial Personnel and Senior Management for the continued success of our business through their continuing services and strategic guidance and support.

Our success heavily depends upon the continued services of our Key Managerial Personnel and Senior Management, along with support of our Promoters. We also depend significantly on our Key Managerial Personnel and Senior Management for executing our day-to-day activities. The loss of any of our Promoters and Key Management Personnel, or failure to recruit suitable or comparable replacements, could have an adverse effect on us. The loss of service of the Promoters and other senior management could seriously impair the ability to continue to manage and expand the business efficiently. If we are unable to retain qualified employees at a reasonable cost, we may be unable to execute our growth strategy. For further details of our Key Managerial Personnel and Senior Management, please refer to the chapter titled “Our Management” beginning on page 184 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus. However, to reduce dependency on a few individuals, we are strengthening our organizational framework by institutionalizing decision-making and investing in HR policies to retain and attract experienced professionals.

15. Our Company has previously restructured its loans, and we cannot assure you that we will not restructure loans again in the future

In the past, our Company has undertaken loan restructuring to manage our financial obligations. While we believe that these measures were necessary at the time, we cannot assure you that we will not undertake further loan restructuring in the future. Any future restructuring could impact our creditworthiness, financial stability, and relationship with lenders, potentially leading to higher interest costs or more stringent borrowing terms, which may adversely affect our financial condition. For further details, please refer to the chapter titled “Financial Indebtedness” beginning on page 211 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

16. Our manufacturing facility is critical to our business. Any disruption in the continuous operations of our manufacturing facility would have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

We operate manufacturing facility with a total area of 40,000 square feet, located in Satara District. The majority of our revenue is presently from products manufactured at this manufacturing facility, therefore, any disruption to our manufacturing facility may result in production shutdowns. This facility is subject to certain operating risks, such as the breakdown or failure of equipment, power supply or processes, performance below expected levels of efficiency, obsolescence of equipment or machinery, labour disputes, natural disasters, epidemics, lockdowns, curfews, industrial accidents and the need to comply with the directives of relevant government and regulatory authorities. Our customers rely significantly on the timely delivery of our products and our ability to provide an uninterrupted supply of our products is critical to our business.

In particular, if operations at our manufacturing facility were to be disrupted as a result of any significant workplace accident, equipment failure, natural disaster, power outage, fire, explosion, terrorism, adverse weather conditions, epidemics, lockdowns, curfews, labour dispute or unrest, obsolescence or other reasons, our financial performance may be adversely affected as a result of our inability to meet customer demand or committed delivery schedules for our products. Interruptions in production may also increase our costs and reduce our sales, and may require us to make substantial capital expenditures to remedy the situation or to defend litigation that we may become involved in as a result, which may negatively affect our profitability, business, financial condition, results of operations, cash flows and prospects. To mitigate this risk, we have implemented comprehensive safety protocols, preventive maintenance schedules, and contingency plans to ensure uninterrupted operations.

17. Our business may be adversely affected if we are unable to maintain and grow our brand image.

Our brand is one of our most important assets, and we believe our brand and reputation are significant in attracting customers to our products and services. We also believe that continuing to develop our reputation and awareness of our brand through focused and consistent business development initiatives among our customers is important for our ability to increase our sales volumes and our revenues, grow our existing market share and expand into new markets.

Although we take many steps to increase awareness of our products and protect the value of our brand through marketing, our business is dependent on customers' perception of our reputation and brand. If we are unable to maintain our customer relationships, we may only incur expenses without the benefit of higher revenues. Our competitors also may launch promotional activities, which may increase their brand visibility and we may not be able to match them. Further, we may not be able to invest adequately in marketing or customer engagement which could lead to loss of customers to competitors. Further, our reputation and brands could be damaged by negative publicity in traditional or social media or by claims or perceptions about the quality of products and solutions, regardless of whether such claims or perceptions are true. If we fail to preserve the value of our brands, maintain our reputation, or attract consumers to our products, our business, results of operations and financial condition could be adversely impacted. In addition, our failure in maintaining our quality accreditations and certifications may negatively impact our brand and reputation.

18. We have unsecured loans, which may be recalled at any time. Any recall of such loans may have an adverse effect on our business, prospects, financial condition and results of operations.

We have unsecured loans that can be recalled at any time at the lender's discretion. As of August 31, 2025, the outstanding amount of these unsecured loans was Rs. 304.35 Lakhs. If such a demand arises, our company may need to secure alternative financing, which may not always be available on favourable terms or at all. The inability to arrange replacement funding in a timely manner could strain our cash flows, disrupt business operations, and negatively impact our financial stability. Furthermore, the unpredictability associated with unsecured loans poses a potential risk to our liquidity and long-term financial health. Over time, the Company intends to reduce reliance on such unsecured loans by exploring more formalised funding arrangements and strengthening its internal accruals. However, the risk of short-notice repayment cannot be entirely ruled out.

For details of our Company's unsecured loans, please refer to the chapter titled "Financial Indebtedness" beginning on page 211 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

19. The average cost of acquisition of Equity Shares by our Promoters could be lower than the Issue Price.

Our Promoters average cost of acquisition of Equity Shares in our Company may be lower than the Issue Price. As a result, they may have substantial gains on any sale of Equity Shares in the Issue. Investors in the Issue may therefore be exposed to the risk of a potential disparity in cost and returns, and there can be no assurance that the market price of the Equity Shares will not decline post-Listing, which may adversely affect the investment value for new investors. Our Promoter's average cost of acquisition of Equity shares in our Company is as follows:

Name of Promoters	No. of Equity Shares held	Average cost of Acquisition per Equity Share (in Rs.)
Anujit Shivaji Darade	95,63,302	4.19
Shivaji Kisan Darade	23,40,823	2.23
Ashish Shivaji Darade	2,22,935	2.23

The lower average acquisition cost for our Promoters reflects their early-stage investment and commitment to the Company's growth. Investors are encouraged to consider the Company's fundamentals, future prospects, and the benefits of listing when evaluating their investment decisions.

20. We have in the past entered into related party transactions and may continue to do so in the future.

We have entered into and may in the course of our business continue to enter into transactions specified in the Restated Financial Information contained in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus with related parties that include our Promoters, Directors and their relatives. The said significant transactions with the related parties exposes our Company with the following risks:

- Potential Conflict of Interest: Transactions with related parties may not always be based purely on market driven terms, potentially leading to conflicts of interest.
- Business Concentration Risk: Dependence on related parties for significant procurement could expose the Company to operational disruptions if these parties alter their business terms or discontinue their relationship.
- Regulatory Risk: Higher volumes of related party transactions may attract closer scrutiny from regulatory authorities, resulting in possible penalties or reputational harm if found non-compliant.
- Limited Bargaining Power: Over-reliance could reduce our ability to negotiate favourable terms, impacting profitability and operational flexibility.

For further details in relation to our related party transactions, please refer to the section titled “Summary of Draft Red Herring Prospectus – Related Party Transactions” beginning on page 25 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus. While we believe that all such transactions have been conducted on an arm’s length basis and in the ordinary course of business, there can be no assurance that we could not have achieved more favorable terms. Furthermore, it is likely that we may enter into related party transactions in the future.

There can be no assurance that such transactions, individually or in the aggregate, will not have a material adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations. The Company ensures that all related-party transactions are undertaken in compliance with the applicable provisions of the Companies Act, 2013 and the SEBI Listing Regulations, wherever applicable. Such transactions are subject to review and approval by the Audit Committee and/or the Board of Directors, and, where required, by the shareholders. The Company also strives to maintain transparency by making appropriate disclosures in its financial statements and corporate filings.

21. In addition to normal remuneration, other benefits and reimbursement of expenses, some of our Directors, Promoters and Key Management Personnel are interested in our Company to the extent of their shareholding and dividend entitlement in our Company.

In addition to receiving remuneration and expense reimbursements, our Promoters, Directors and Key Managerial Personnel have other vested interests in the Company. They hold shares in the Company, representing their personal investments, and are entitled to dividends on the shares they own. Our Promoters and Directors, Anujit Shivaji Darade (also the Managing Director) and Shivaji Kisan Darade and Our Additional Director, Sadhana Shivaji Darade have given unsecured loans to our Company. As a result, there may be instances where the personal interests of such individuals conflict, or could be perceived to conflict, with the interests of the Company or its minority shareholders. While we adhere to corporate governance standards and related party transaction regulations to mitigate potential conflicts, there can be no assurance that such interests will not influence decisions made by the Board or management from time to time. Any such conflict, if not appropriately managed, may have an adverse impact on the Company’s governance practices, stakeholder perception, or long-term strategic direction.

For further details regarding the interests of our Promoters, Directors and Key Managerial Personnel beyond their normal remuneration or reimbursement of expenses, please refer to the chapter titled “Our Management – Interest of Directors” beginning on page 184 and “Our Promoters and Promoter Group – Interests of Promoters” beginning on page 201 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

22. Our inability to identify and understand evolving industry trends, technological advancements, customer preferences and develop new products to meet our customers’ demands may adversely affect our business.

Our business is vulnerable to potential setbacks, if we fail to keep pace with evolving industry trends, technological advancements, and changing customer preferences. Our inability to identify, understand, and respond to these dynamics by developing new products could have adverse effects on our operations and financial performance. Key concerns include industry trends, technological advancements, customer preferences and competitive position. To address these risks, we are committed to actively monitoring industry developments, conducting market research, and investing in technological advancement. Our goal is to foster innovation, engage with customers, and stay aligned with industry best practices. Nonetheless, there are no guarantees that these measures will fully protect us from the potential adverse impacts of failing to adapt to evolving market dynamics. Consequently, our business may be negatively affected if we cannot effectively identify, understand, and respond to these changes to meet our customers' evolving demands.

23. Our inability to successfully implement some or all our business strategies in a timely manner or at all could have an adverse effect on our business. Further, our failure to manage growth effectively may adversely impact our business, results of operations and financial condition.

As part of our strategy aimed towards business growth and improvement of market position, we intend to implement several business strategies, which include:

- Sourcing Strategy
- Pricing and Negotiation Strategy
- Quality Management Strategy
- Inventory Management Strategy
- Supply Chain Risk Management Strategy

The aforesaid strategies are subject to certain risks and uncertainties. Our strategies may not succeed due to various factors, many of which are beyond our control, including our inability to reduce our debt and our operating costs, our failure to develop new products with sufficient growth potential as per the changing market preferences and trends, our failure to effectively market our products and services or foresee challenges with respect to our business initiatives, our failure to sufficiently upgrade our infrastructure, machines, automation, equipment and technology as required to cater to the requirement of changing demand and market preferences, changes in laws and regulations in India, our inability to respond to regular competition, and other operational and management difficulties. Any failure on our part to implement our strategy due to many reasons as attributed aforesaid could be detrimental to our long-term business outlook and our growth prospects and may materially adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition. Further, for any reason, in the event the benefits we realize are less than our estimates or the implementation of these strategies and operating plans adversely affect our operations or cost more or take longer to effectuate than we expect, or if our assumptions prove inaccurate, our results of operations may be materially adversely affected. For further details of our strategies, please refer to the chapter titled “Our Business” beginning on page 145 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

24. We do not have firm commitment agreements with our customers. If our customers choose not to source their requirements from us, our business and results of operations may be adversely affected.

We do not have firm commitment long-term agreements with all our customers and instead rely on purchase orders to govern the volume and other terms of sales of our products. Many of the purchase orders we receive from our customers specify a price per unit and delivery schedule, and the quantities to be delivered are determined closer to the date of delivery. However, such orders may be amended or cancelled prior to finalization, and should such an amendment or cancellation take place, it may adversely impact our production schedules and inventories. Further, where we have contracts with customers, such contracts do not bind our customers to provide us with a specific volume of business and can be terminated by our customers with or without cause, with little or no advance notice and without compensation. Consequently, there is no commitment on the part of the customer to continue to place new work orders with us and as a result, our sales from period to period may fluctuate significantly as a result of changes in our customers' vendor preferences and we may be unable to procure repeat orders from our customers.

Cancellation by customers or delay or reduction in their orders or instances where anticipated orders fail to materialize can result in mismatch between our inventories of raw materials and of manufactured products, thereby increasing our costs relating to maintaining our inventory and reduction of our margins, which may adversely affect our profitability and liquidity.

Additionally, our customers have high and stringent standards for product quality and quantity as well as delivery schedules. Any failure to meet our customers' expectations could result in the cancellation or non-renewal of contracts or purchase orders.

25. We are subject to strict quality control requirements and any failure by us to comply with quality standards may lead to cancellation of existing and future orders and product recalls, which could adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

We may not meet regulatory quality standards, or strict quality standards imposed by our customers, applicable to our manufacturing processes, which could have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition, and results of operations. We cannot assure you that we comply or will continue to comply with all regulatory requirements or the quality requirement standards of our customers. The failure by us to achieve or maintain compliance with these requirements or quality standards may disrupt our ability to supply products sufficient to meet demand until compliance is achieved.

Despite our quality control and quality assurance efforts, problems may occur, or may be alleged, in or resulting from the design and/ or manufacturing of these products. Whether or not we are responsible, problems in the products we design and/ or manufacture, or in products which include components we manufacture, whether real or alleged, whether caused by faulty customer specifications, the design or manufacturing processes or a component defect, may result in increased costs to us, as well as delayed shipments to customers, and/ or reduced or cancelled customer orders and a loss of reputation.

26. Under-utilization of our manufacturing capacities could have an adverse effect on our business, future prospects and future financial performance.

We have our manufacturing facility in Satara District with an installed production capacity as mentioned below:

Plant	Annual Installed Capacity (in KGs)	As of, and for the year ended
		March 31, 2025		March 31, 2024		March 31, 2023
		Annual actual production (in KGS)	Capacity Utilization (%)	Annual actual production (in KGS)	Capacity Utilization (%)	Annual actual production (in KGS)	Capacity Utilization (%)
1	1800000	1507224	83	1281140	71	1321400	73

Our capacity utilization levels are dependent on our ability to carry out uninterrupted operations at manufacturing facility, the availability of raw materials, industry/ market conditions, as well as by the product requirements of, and procurement practice followed by, our customers. In the event we face prolonged disruptions at our facility including due to interruptions in the supply of water, electricity or as a result of labour unrest, or are unable to procure sufficient raw materials, we would not be able to achieve full capacity utilization of our current manufacturing facility, resulting in operational inefficiencies which could have a material adverse effect on our business and financial condition.

We are planning to implement a multi-pronged strategy that includes improving demand forecasting, diversifying our product offerings, and expanding into new markets to drive consistent demand. Furthermore, we are enhancing operational flexibility through lean manufacturing practices and dynamic production planning, allowing us to scale operations efficiently in response to market fluctuations. These measures aim to ensure better alignment between production capacity and actual demand, thereby protecting our business performance and long-term financial health.

27. Information relating to the installed manufacturing capacity, actual production and capacity utilization of our manufacturing facilities included in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus are based on several estimates and actual future results may differ.

Information relating to the installed manufacturing capacity, actual production and capacity utilization of our manufacturing facilities included in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, including in the chapter titled “Our Business – Capacity and Capacity Utilization” beginning on page 145 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, are based on several estimates of our management that have been taken into account by an independent chartered engineer in the calculation of the installed manufacturing capacity, actual production and capacity utilization of our manufacturing facilities. These estimates include the standard capacity calculation practice of the plastic industry after examining the calculations and explanations provided by our Company. In addition, the information relating to the actual production at our manufacturing facilities during the last three Financial Years are based on, among other factors, the examination of our internal production records, the period during which our manufacturing facilities operate in a Financial Year or period, expected operations, availability of raw materials, downtime resulting from scheduled maintenance activities, unscheduled breakdowns, as well as expected operational efficiencies. Further, capacity utilization has been calculated on the basis of actual production during the relevant financial year or period divided by the aggregate installed capacity of relevant manufacturing facilities at the end of the relevant Financial Year or period. Accordingly, actual production levels and rates may differ significantly from the installed capacity information of our facilities or historical installed capacity information of our facilities depending on the product type. Undue reliance should therefore not be placed on our historical installed capacity information for our existing facilities included in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

28. We have significant power, water and fuel requirements and any disruption to power, water or fuel sources could increase our production costs and adversely affect our results of operations.

We require substantial power and water for our manufacturing facilities. If costs of these utilities were to rise, or if electricity or water supplies or supply arrangements were disrupted, our profitability could decline.

We source our electricity requirements for our manufacturing facilities from state electricity distributor. If supply is not available for any reason, we will need to rely on generators, which may not be able to consistently meet our requirements. The cost of electricity from state electricity boards could be significantly higher, thereby adversely affecting our cost of production and profitability. Further, if for any reason such electricity is not available, we may need to shut down our plants until an adequate supply of electricity is restored. Interruptions of electricity supply can also result in production shut-downs, increased costs associated with restarting production and the loss of production in progress. Additionally, we note that the electricity bills for our registered office are issued in the name of an entity, whereas the lease for the premises has been executed between our Company and the individual owner of the property (and not with the said entity). This mismatch may require us to depend on the continuing cooperation of such entity and could entail certain operational or compliance-related risks in respect of the utilities of our registered office.

In addition, we source most of our water requirements through local suppliers. Any disruption to our water sources, water supplier related issues, has the potential to significantly impact our production costs and, consequently, our financial performance.

We operate diesel generator sets to meet our electricity requirements during periods when supply from the state electricity distributor is unavailable or insufficient. The operation of these generators requires continuous availability of fuel, primarily diesel, the supply and cost of which are subject to fluctuations based on market conditions, government regulations, and availability from suppliers. Any shortage, delay in procurement, or significant increase in the cost of diesel could adversely impact our ability to operate our generators and, consequently, our manufacturing operations. Further, reliance on fuel-based generators also exposes us to risks relating to storage, handling, and regulatory compliance for such fuel. In the event of disruptions in fuel supply or inability to operate our generators efficiently, our production schedules, cost of operations, and profitability may be adversely affected.

29. We are subject to counterparty credit risk and any delay in receipt or non-receipt of payments may adversely impact our financial condition and results of operations.

There is no guarantee that we will accurately assess the creditworthiness of our customers. Macroeconomic conditions, such as a potential credit crisis in the global financial system, could also result in financial difficulties for our customers, including limited access to the credit markets, insolvency or bankruptcy. Such conditions could cause our customers to delay payments, request modifications of their payment terms, or default on their payment obligations to us, all of which could increase our receivables. Timely collection of dues from customers also depends on our ability to complete our contractual commitments and subsequently bill for and collect from our clients. If we are unable to meet our contractual obligations, we might experience delays in the collection of, or be unable to collect, our customer balances, and if this occurs, our results of operations and cash flows could be adversely affected. In addition, if we experience delays in billing and collection for our services, our cash flows could be adversely affected.

(Rs. In Lakhs)

Particulars	For the financial year ending
	March 31, 2025	March 31, 2024	March 31, 2023
Trade Receivables	430.09	705.36	763.21

If any of our customers have insufficient liquidity, we could encounter significant delays or defaults in payments owed to us by such customers, or we may extend our payment terms, which could adversely impact our financial condition and operating results. Any extensions or delays in payments owed to us could adversely impact our short-term cash flows.

30. Outstanding dues to creditors may adversely affect our business, reputation, and financial condition

We have certain dues outstanding to our trade and other creditors. Delays or failure in settling these outstanding amounts in a timely manner may lead to strained relationships with suppliers and service providers, disruption in the supply chain, or withdrawal of credit support. Persistent or significant delays in payments could negatively impact our reputation, business operations, and creditworthiness. It may also result in legal claims, increased borrowing costs, or penalties, all of which could materially and adversely affect our financial condition and operational performance.

We actively manage our payables and maintain regular communication with creditors to ensure timely settlements. We align payment schedules with our cash flow planning to sustain healthy supplier relationships, ensuring supply chain stability and supporting our operational and financial performance.

(Rs. In Lakhs)

Particulars	For the financial year ending
	March 31, 2025	March 31, 2024	March 31, 2023
Trade Payables	652.22	724.35	745.88

31. We regularly work with hazardous materials and activities in our manufacturing facilities can be dangerous, which could cause injuries to people or property.

Our business requires individuals to work under potentially dangerous circumstances or with flammable materials. Despite compliance with requisite safety requirements and standards, our operations are subject to significant hazards, including:

- Fires;
- Mechanical failures and other operational problems;
- Ergonomic and physical strain;
- Airborne contaminants and poor ventilation;
- Molten polymers; and
- Other environmental risks.

Operating certain machinery and processes in our manufacturing facilities involve risk of accidents and personal injuries. These hazards can cause personal injury and loss of life or destruction of property and equipment as well as environmental damages, which could result in a suspension of operations and the imposition of civil or criminal liabilities.

The loss or shutting down of our facilities could disrupt our business operations and adversely affect our results of operations, financial condition and reputation.

While we maintain what we believe to be adequate insurance, there is a risk that an accident may occur at any of our manufacturing facilities. An accident may result in personal injury to our employees or the labour deployed at our facilities, destruction of property or equipment, manufacturing or delivery delays, environmental damage, or may lead to suspension of our operations and/or imposition of liabilities and bring negative publicity to us. Any such accident may result in litigation, the outcome of which is difficult to assess or quantify, and the cost to defend such litigation can be significant. If these claims and lawsuits, individually or in the aggregate, are resolved against us, our business, results of operations and financial condition could be adversely affected. To mitigate the risks associated with hazardous materials, dangerous processes, and operational hazards in our manufacturing facilities, we implement an Integrated Environmental, Health, and Safety (EHS) Management System.

32. Our insurance cover may not be adequate or we may incur uninsured losses or losses in excess of our insurance coverage.

We could face liabilities or otherwise suffer losses should any unforeseen incident such as fire, flood, and accidents affect our office or manufacturing facilities or in the region /area where our office and manufacturing facilities are located. Although we maintain insurance coverage over our assets such as raw materials, stocks, plant and machinery, equipment, etc., there are possible losses, which we may not have insured against or covered or wherein the insurance cover in relation to the same may not be adequate. We may face losses in the absence of insurance for certain cases and even in cases in which any such loss may be insured, we may not be able to recover the entire claim from insurance companies. Any damage suffered by us in excess of such limited coverage amounts, or in respect of uninsured events, not covered by such insurance policies will have to be borne by us.

While we believe that we have obtained insurance against losses which are most likely to occur in our line of business, there may be certain risks which may not be covered by us, which we have not ascertained or anticipated as on date. Further, we cannot assure that we will be able to accurately ascertain and maintain adequate insurance for losses that may be incurred in the future. For more details on the insurance policies availed by us, refer to the chapter titled “Our Business - Insurance” beginning on page 145 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

Additionally, we face exposure to product liability claims that may arise due to defects in the quality, performance, or safety of our products. While certain liabilities are insured, there is no guarantee that such coverage will be adequate or available in the future on commercially reasonable terms. Any successful product liability claim not fully covered by insurance could result in substantial legal costs, compensation payouts, and reputational harm, which may erode customer trust and adversely impact our revenue and brand image.

We maintain insurance coverage in line with industry practices and periodically review our policies to address emerging risks. We also uphold strict quality control measures to minimize product liability exposure and are exploring additional insurance coverage, including for cash in transit, to strengthen our risk management framework.

33. Failure or disruption of our IT and/ or ERP systems may adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

We have implemented enterprise resource planning (“ERP”) solutions to cover key areas of our operations, procurement, dispatch and accounting. These systems are potentially vulnerable to damage or interruption from a variety of sources, which could result in a material adverse effect on our operations. Disruption or failure of our IT systems could have a material adverse effect on our operations. A large-scale IT malfunction could disrupt our business or lead to disclosure of sensitive Company information. Our ability to keep our business operating depends on the proper and efficient operation and functioning of various IT systems, which are susceptible to malfunctions and interruptions (including those due to equipment damage, power outages, computer viruses and a range of other hardware, software and network problems).

A significant or large-scale malfunction or interruption of one or more of our IT systems could adversely affect our ability to keep our operations running efficiently and affect product availability. In addition, it is possible that a malfunction of our data system security measures could enable unauthorized persons to access sensitive business data, including information relating to our intellectual property or business strategy or those of our customers. Such malfunction or disruptions could cause economic losses for which we could be held liable. A failure of our information technology systems could also cause damage to our reputation which could harm our business. Any of these developments, alone or in combination, could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Further, unavailability of, or failure to retain, well trained employees capable of constantly servicing our IT and/or ERP systems may lead to inefficiency or disruption of IT system thereby adversely affecting our ability to operate efficiently. Any failure or disruption in the operation of these systems or the loss of data due to such failure or disruption (including due to human error or sabotage) may affect our ability to plan, track, record and analyse work in progress and sales, process financial information, meet business objectives based on IT initiatives such as product life cycle management, manage our creditors, debtors, manage payables and inventory or otherwise conduct our normal business operations, which may increase our costs and otherwise adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

36. We may be subject to industrial unrest, slowdowns and increased wage costs, which may adversely affect our business and results of operations.

We have 36 full-time employees on our rolls working in our facilities. Although we have not experienced any major disruptions to our business operations due to any labour disputes or other problems with our work force in the past, there can be no assurance that we will not experience such disruptions in the future. Such disruptions may adversely affect our business, reputation and results of operations and may also divert the management's attention and result in increased costs. India has stringent labour legislations that protect the interests of workers, including legislations that set forth detailed procedures for the establishment of trade unions, dispute resolution and employee removal and legislations that impose certain financial obligations on employers upon retrenchment. Although our employees are not currently unionized, there can be no assurance that they will not unionize in the future. If our employees unionize, it may become difficult for us to maintain flexible labour policies, and we may face the threat of labour unrest, demand for increase in wages, work stoppages, which may lead to diversion of our management's attention due to union intervention, which may have a material adverse impact on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

We are also subject to laws and regulations governing relationships with employees, in such areas as minimum wage and maximum working hours, overtime, working conditions, hiring and terminating of employees and work permits. Further, the minimum wage laws in India have been amended in the recent past and may be amended in future leading to upward revisions in the minimum wages payable. Shortage of skilled personnel or work stoppages caused by disagreements with employees could have an adverse effect on our business and results of operations.

We have implemented a structured human resource and industrial relations framework aimed at fostering a stable and productive work environment. This includes regular engagement with employees and labor unions, implementation of internal grievance redressal mechanisms, and compliance with applicable labor and employment laws.

37. If we fail to maintain an effective system of internal controls, we may not be able to successfully manage, or accurately report, our financial risks.

Effective internal controls are necessary for us to prepare reliable financial reports and effectively avoid fraud. Moreover, any internal controls that we may implement, or our level of compliance with such controls, may deteriorate over time, due to evolving business conditions. There can be no assurance that deficiencies in our internal controls will not arise in the future, or that we will be able to implement, and continue to maintain, adequate measures to rectify or mitigate any such deficiencies in our internal controls. Any inability on our part to adequately detect, rectify or mitigate any such deficiencies in our internal controls may adversely impact our ability to accurately report, or successfully manage, our financial risks, and to avoid fraud.

38. Our ability to pay dividends in the future will depend upon our future earnings, financial condition, cash flows, working capital requirements, capital expenditure and restrictive covenants in our financing arrangements.

We may retain all our future earnings, if any, for use in the operations and expansion of our business. As a result, we may not declare dividends in the foreseeable future. Any future determination as to the declaration and payment of dividends will be at the discretion of our Board of Directors and will depend on factors that our Board of Directors deem relevant, including among others, our results of operations, financial condition, cash requirements, business prospects and any other financing arrangements. Accordingly, realization of a gain on shareholders investments may largely depend upon the appreciation of the price of our Equity Shares. If there is a default on such financing arrangements, or if certain conditions require us to clear outstanding dues before issuing dividends, our capacity to distribute earnings to shareholders may be limited. Consequently, investors seeking returns may primarily rely on potential appreciation in the value of our Equity Shares. There can be no assurance that our Equity Shares will appreciate in value.

39. Our Promoters will continue to exercise significant influence over us and may cause us to take actions that are not in the best interest of our other shareholders.

After the completion of the Issue, our Promoters will hold substantial shareholding in our Company. So long as our Promoters own a significant portion of our Equity Shares, they will be able to significantly influence the election of our Directors and control most matters affecting us, including our business strategies and policies, decisions with respect to mergers, business combinations, acquisitions or dispositions of assets, dividend policies, capital structure and financing, and may also delay or prevent a change of management or control, even if such a transaction may be beneficial to other shareholders of us.

Our Promoters will continue to determine decisions requiring majority voting of shareholders and our other shareholders may not be able to affect the outcome of such voting. Our Promoters may take or block actions with respect to our business which may conflict with the best interests of the Company or that of other shareholders. The interests of our Promoters, as the controlling shareholders of us, may also conflict with our interests or the interests of our other shareholders.

However, we have adopted corporate governance practices in compliance with applicable laws and regulations, including the Companies Act, 2013. Our Board of Directors includes independent directors who are expected to provide objective oversight and act in the best interests of all shareholders. Key matters, including related party transactions and material decisions, are subject to review and approval by the Board and, where required, by shareholders, in accordance with applicable laws. These measures are intended to ensure a balanced approach to decision-making and safeguard the interests of minority shareholders.

40. Our success also depends to an extent on our product and process advancement capabilities, including our tool room facilities, and any failure to derive the desired benefits from such efforts may hurt our competitiveness and profitability.

Our success is dependent on our ability to develop new products, strengthen our tool room capabilities, and continuously improve our production processes. We make investments in product and process advancement, including tool room development, in particular to improve the quality of our products and expand our product offerings, which we believe are factors crucial for our future growth and prospects.

We cannot assure you that our future product and process advancement initiatives, including tool room improvements, will be successful, completed within the anticipated time frame or budget, or that our newly developed or improved products will achieve wide market acceptance from our customers. Even if such products are commercially successful, there is no guarantee that they will be accepted by our customers or achieve anticipated sales targets in a profitable manner. Additionally, there can be no assurance that the time and resources spent on product and process advancement and tool room improvements will ultimately be beneficial to the Company. Costs incurred by us towards such initiatives may not necessarily reduce our production costs in the future.

In addition, we cannot assure you that our existing or potential competitors will not develop products that are similar or superior to ours. Since it is often difficult to project the time frame for developing new products and the duration of the relevant market window, there is a substantial risk that we may have to abandon a potential product that is no longer commercially viable, even after significant resources have been invested. If we continue to fail in our product and process advancement, tool room enhancement, and product launch efforts, our business, prospects, financial condition, and results of operations may be materially and adversely affected. We evaluate the technical and commercial viability of our projects at various stages to optimize resource allocation and reduce the risk of unproductive investments.

41. Our Company as well as our customers operate in a highly competitive industry. Failure to compete effectively may have an adverse impact on our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects

Some of our Company's competitors in the industry may have greater design, engineering, manufacturing, financial capabilities, or superior resources. Our customers evaluate the product suppliers based on, among other things, manufacturing capabilities, speed, quality, engineering services, flexibility, and costs. Therefore, we are exposed to risks of our competitors having to better resources than us.

Further, OEMs continuously seek to reduce cost. Therefore, our ability to be cost efficient is a critical factor in being preferred by our customers. In addition, major OEMs typically outsource the same type of products to at least two or three outsourcing partners in order to diversify their supply risks. The competitive nature of the industry may result in substantial price competition. The industry could become even more competitive if OEMs fail to significantly increase their overall levels of outsourcing or start manufacturing in-house. This would result in an increasingly competitive market with a smaller market share for the existing players. Increased competition could result in significant price competition, reduced revenues, lower profit margins, or loss of market share, any of which would have a material adverse effect on our Company's business, financial condition, and results of operations.

Our Company's customers may opt to transact with our competitors instead of our Company or if the Company fails to develop and provide the technology and skills required by its customers at a rate comparable to its competitors. There can be no assurance that we will be able to competitively develop the higher value add solutions necessary to retain business or attract new customers. There can also be no assurance that we will be able to establish a compelling advantage over our competitors.

We continuously invest in enhancing our manufacturing capabilities, operational efficiency, and technological expertise to remain competitive in our industry. Our focus on quality, cost-effectiveness, timely delivery, and customer responsiveness allows us to maintain long-standing relationships with key customers.

42. Our business for home appliances sector is subject to season volatility and revenues are often concentrated and we may not be able to accurately forecast our project schedule which could have an adverse effect on our cash flows, business, results of operations and financial condition

Our business is exposed to seasonal fluctuations inherent in the home appliance sector, where demand tends to spike during specific periods such as festive seasons, summer months (for cooling products), and year-end sales, while remaining relatively subdued during off-peak periods. This variability impacts the purchasing patterns of our customers, primarily OEMs and consumer appliance brands, which in turn affects the order volumes we receive. The table below states the revenue generated from home appliances sector-

Sector	2024-25		2023-2024		2022-2023
	Value	%	Value	%	Value	%
Home Appliances	1,969.55	41.43	2,118.38	51.06	2,681.76	59.20

As a result, we may face challenges in maintaining optimal production capacity and resource allocation throughout the year. During peak seasons, we may experience capacity constraints, increased lead times, and pressure on supply chain efficiency. Conversely, during lean seasons, underutilization of manufacturing capacity may affect our operating margins and revenue stability.

This seasonal demand pattern may lead to uneven revenue generation across quarters, which could result in misleading interpretations of our financial performance if viewed in isolation. Any inability to accurately forecast seasonal demand or efficiently manage production schedules could adversely impact our profitability, working capital management, and overall financial condition.

We adopt flexible manufacturing practices and maintain scalable capacity to respond to demand surges during peak seasons. Additionally, during lean periods, we focus on optimizing capacity utilization through diversification of our product mix and by catering to other industry sectors. These measures are aimed at reducing the impact of seasonality on our cash flows, operational efficiency, and financial performance.

If any of these guarantees are revoked, our lenders may require alternative guarantees or collateral or cancellation of such facilities, entailing repayment of amounts outstanding under such facilities. If we are unable to procure alternative guarantees satisfactory to our lenders, we may need to seek alternative sources of capital, which may not be available to us at commercially reasonable terms or at all, or to agree to more onerous terms under our financing agreements, which may limit our operational flexibility. Accordingly, our business, financial condition, results of operations, cash flows and prospects may be adversely affected by the revocation of all or any of the personal guarantees provided by our Promoters and Directors in connection with our Company's borrowings.

Certain facilities availed by our Company are secured by personal guarantees provided by erstwhile promoters who have since ceased to be associated with our Company. There can be no assurance that such guarantees will continue in the future, and any withdrawal of such guarantees may lead the lenders to recall facilities or require alternate security/guarantees from our Company or its present promoters. For further details regarding loans availed by our Company, please refer to the chapter titled "Financial Indebtedness" beginning on page 211 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

45. We have issued Equity Shares in the last twelve months at price lower than the Issue Price.

However, even in such circumstances, the Company shall stay fully committed to pay such interest and/or refund the full application amount, as may be required in accordance with the applicable regulatory directives.

47. Any future issuance of Equity Shares or convertible securities, including options under any stock option plan or other equity linked securities may dilute your shareholding, and significant sales of Equity Shares by our major shareholders, may adversely affect the trading price of our Equity Shares.

Future issuances of Equity Shares by our Company after this Issue will dilute investors' holdings in our Company. Further, any significant sales of Equity Shares after this Issue may adversely affect the trading price of our Equity Shares. In addition, the perception that such issuance or significant sales of Equity Shares may occur may adversely affect the trading price of our Equity Shares and impair our future ability to raise capital through offerings of Equity Shares.

48. We have not identified any alternate source of funding and hence any failure or delay on our part to mobilize the required resources or any shortfall in the Issue proceeds may delay the implementation schedule.

The proposed fund requirement for our business, is to be funded from the proceeds of this IPO. We have not identified any alternate source of funding and hence any failure or delay on our part to mobilize the required resources or any shortfall in the Issue proceeds may delay our business plans. We therefore, cannot assure that we would be able to execute our future plans/strategy within the given timeframe. For details, please refer to the chapter titled "Objects of the Issue" beginning on page 91 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

49. After this Issue, the price of the Equity Shares may be highly volatile, or an active trading market for the Equity Shares may not develop.

The price of the Equity Shares on the Stock Exchange may fluctuate as a result of the factors, including:

- Volatility in the Indian and global capital market;
- Company's results of operations and financial performance;
- Performance of Company's competitors,

- Adverse media reports on Company or pertaining to our Industry;
- Changes in our estimates of performance or recommendations by financial analysts;
- Significant developments in India's economic and fiscal policies; and
- Significant developments in India's environmental regulations.

Current valuations may not be sustainable in the future and may also not be reflective of future valuations for our industry and our Company. There has been no public market for the Equity Shares and the prices of the Equity Shares may fluctuate after this Issue. There can be no assurance that an active trading market for the Equity Shares will develop or be sustained after this Issue or that the price at which the Equity Shares are initially traded will correspond to the price at which the Equity Shares will trade in the market subsequent to this Issue.

50. The Issue Price of our Equity Shares may not be indicative of the market price of our Equity Shares after the Issue and the market price of our Equity Shares may decline below the Issue Price and you may not be able to Sell your Equity Shares at or above the Issue Price.

The Issue Price of our Equity Shares has been determined by book building method. This price is based on numerous factors (for further information, please refer to the chapter titled "Basis for Issue Price" beginning on page 103 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus) and may not be indicative of the market price of our Equity Shares after the Issue. The market price of our Equity Shares could be subject to significant fluctuations after the Issue, and may decline below the Issue Price. We cannot assure you that you will be able to sell your Equity Shares at or above the Issue Price. Among the factors that could affect our share price include without limitation. The following:

- Half yearly variations in the rate of growth of our financial indicators, such as earnings per share, net income and revenues;
- Changes in revenue or earnings estimates or publication of research reports by analysts;
- Speculation in the press or investment community;
- General market conditions; and
- Domestic and international economic, legal and regulatory factors unrelated to our performance.

51. Within the parameters as mentioned in the chapter titled "Objects of the Issue" beginning on page 91 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, our Company's management will have flexibility in applying the proceeds of this Issue. The fund requirement and deployment mentioned in the Objects of this Issue have not been appraised by any bank or financial institution

The deployment of funds as stated in the chapter titled "Objects of the Issue" beginning on page 91 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus is entirely at our discretion and is not subject to monitoring by any independent agency. All the figures included under the Objects of the Issue are based on our own estimates. There has been no independent appraisal of the project. We have not entered into any definitive agreements to utilize a portion of the Issue.

52. QIBs and Non-Institutional Investors are not permitted to withdraw or lower their Bids (in terms of quantity of Equity Shares or the Bid Amount) at any stage after submitting a Bid and Individual Investors are not permitted to withdraw their Bids after Bid/ Issue Closing Date

Pursuant to the SEBI ICDR Regulations, QIBs and Non-Institutional Investors are not permitted to withdraw or lower their Bids (in terms of quantity of Equity Shares or the Bid Amount) at any stage after submitting a Bid. Individual Investors can revise or withdraw their Bids during the Bid/ Issue Closing Date. While our Company is required to complete Allotment pursuant to the Issue within such period as may be prescribed under applicable law, events affecting the Bidders' decision to invest in the Equity Shares, including adverse changes in international or national monetary policy, financial, political or economic conditions, our business, results of operation or financial condition may arise between the date of submission of the Bid and Allotment. Our Company may complete the Allotment of the Equity Shares even if such events occur, and such events limit the Bidders' ability to sell the Equity Shares Allotted pursuant to the Issue or cause the trading price of the Equity Shares to decline on listing.

53. Rights of shareholders under Indian laws may be more limited than under the laws of other jurisdictions

Indian legal principles related to corporate procedures, directors' fiduciary duties and liabilities, and shareholders' rights may differ from those that would apply to a company in another jurisdiction. Shareholders' rights including in relation to class actions, under Indian law may not be as extensive as shareholders' rights under the laws of other countries or jurisdictions. Investors may have more difficulty in asserting their rights as shareholder in an Indian company than as shareholder of a corporation in another jurisdiction.

54. We propose to utilize the Net Proceeds for purposes identified in the section titled “Objects of the Issue” in this Draft Prospectus. Any variation in the utilization of the Net Proceeds as disclosed in this Draft Prospectus shall be subject to certain compliance requirements, including prior Shareholders’ approval.

We intend to use Net Proceeds towards meeting the funding the Capital Expenditure requirement of the Company and General Corporate purposes. We intend to deploy the Net Proceeds in financial year 2025-26 and 2026-27 and such deployment is based on certain assumptions and strategy which our Company believes to implement in future. The funds raised from the Issue may remain idle on account of change in assumptions, market conditions, strategy of our Company, etc., For further details on the use of the Net Proceeds, please refer chapter titled “Objects of the Issue” beginning on page 91 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus. The deployment of funds for the purposes described above is at the discretion of our Company’s Board of Directors. The fund requirement and deployment are based on internal management estimates and has not been appraised by any bank or financial institution. Accordingly, within the parameters as mentioned in the chapter titled “Objects of the Issue” beginning on page 91 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, the Management will have significant flexibility in applying the proceeds received by our Company from the Issue. Our Board of Directors will monitor the proceeds of this Issue. However, Audit Committee will monitor the utilization of the proceeds of this Issue and prepare the statement for utilization of the proceeds of this Issue. However, in accordance with Section 27 of the Companies Act, 2013, and relevant provisions of SEBI ICDR Regulations, 2018, a company shall not vary the objects of the Issue without the company being authorized to do so by its shareholders by way of special resolution and other compliances in this regard. Our Promoter and controlling shareholders shall provide exit opportunity to such shareholders who do not agree to the proposal to vary the objects, at such price, and in such manner, as may be prescribed by SEBI, in this regard. Therefore, we may not be able to undertake variation of objects of the Issue to use any unutilized proceeds of the Issue, if any, even if such variation is in the interest of our Company, which may restrict our ability to respond to any change in our business or financial condition, and may adversely affect our business and results of operations.

55. Our Company is a party to certain litigation and claims. These legal proceedings are pending at different levels of adjudication before various forums and regulatory authorities. Any adverse decision may make us liable to liabilities/penalties and may adversely affect our reputation, business and financial status.

EXTERNAL RISK FACTORS

55. Financial instability in both Indian and international financial markets could adversely affect our results of operations and financial condition.

The Indian market and the Indian economy are influenced by economic and market conditions in other countries, including conditions in the United States, Europe and certain emerging economies in Asia. Financial turmoil in Asia, Russia and elsewhere in the world in recent years has adversely affected the Indian economy. Any worldwide financial instability may cause increased volatility in the Indian financial markets and, directly or indirectly, adversely affect the Indian economy and financial sector and us. Although economic conditions vary across markets, loss of investor confidence in one emerging economy may cause increased volatility across other economies, including India. Financial instability in other parts of the world could have a global influence and thereby negatively affect the Indian economy. Financial disruptions could materially and adversely affect our business, prospects, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows. Further, economic developments globally can have a significant impact on our principal markets. Concerns related to a trade war between large economies may lead to increased risk aversion and volatility in global capital markets and consequently have an impact on the Indian economy. Recent developments in the ongoing conflict between India-Pakistan, Russia-Ukraine, Israel-Palestine has resulted in and may continue to result in a period of sustained instability across global financial markets, induce volatility in commodity prices, increase borrowing costs, cause outflow of capital from emerging markets and may lead to overall slowdown in economic activity in India. In addition, China is one of India's major trading partners and there are rising concerns of a possible slowdown in the Chinese economy as well as a strained relationship with India, which could have an adverse impact on the trade relations between the two countries.

56. Changes in government regulations or their implementation could disrupt our operations and adversely affect our business and results of operations.

Our business and industry are regulated by different laws, rules and regulations framed by the Central and State Government. These regulations can be amended/ changed on a short notice at the discretion of the Government. If we fail to comply with all applicable regulations or if the regulations governing our business or their implementation change adversely, we may incur increased costs or be subject to penalties, which could disrupt our operations and adversely affect our business and results of operations.

57. Taxes and other levies imposed by the Government of India or other State Governments, as well as policies and regulations, may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Taxes and other levies imposed by the Central or State Governments in India that affect our industry include-

- Goods and Service Tax
- Income Tax
- Custom duties on of raw materials and components;

These taxes and levies affect the cost and prices of our services. An increase in any of these taxes or levies, or the imposition of new taxes or levies in the future, may have a material adverse effect on our business, profitability and financial condition.

58. This Draft Red Herring Prospectus contains information from an industry report, prepared by an independent third-party research agency, Infomerics Analytics and Research Private Limited, which we have commissioned and paid for purposes of confirming our understanding of the industry exclusively in connection with the Issue and reliance on such information for making an investment decision in the Issue is subject to certain inherent risks.

This Draft Red Herring Prospectus includes information derived from a third-party industry report dated August 05, 2025, titled “Plastic Moulding Industry” (the “Report”) prepared by Infomerics Analytics and Research Private Limited pursuant to an engagement with our Company. All such information in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus indicates the Report as its source. While Infomerics Analytics and Research Private Limited is an independent agency and neither our Company, nor our Directors, Promoters are its related parties (in terms of the Companies Act, 2013 and the SEBI Listing Regulations), our Company commissioned and paid for the Report exclusively for the purpose of confirming our understanding of the industry in which we operate in connection with the Issue. We officially engaged Infomerics Analytics and Research Private Limited in connection with the preparation of the this Report pursuant to an engagement letter dated May 26, 2025. Accordingly, any information in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus derived from, or based on, the Report should be read taking into consideration the foregoing. The Report uses certain methodologies for market sizing and forecasting and may include numbers relating to us that differ from those we record internally.

There are no standard data gathering methodologies in the markets in which we operate, and methodologies and assumptions vary widely among different industry sources. Furthermore, industry sources and publications are also prepared based on information as of specific dates and may no longer be current or reflect current trends. Industry sources and publications may also base their information on estimates, projections, forecasts and assumptions that may prove to be incorrect. Industry sources do not guarantee the accuracy, adequacy or completeness of the data. Statements from third parties that involve estimates are subject to change, and actual amounts may differ materially from those included in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus. Furthermore, the Report is not a recommendation to invest/ disinvest in any company covered in the Report.

Accordingly, prospective investors should not place undue reliance on, or base their investment decision solely on this information. In view of the foregoing, you may not be able to seek legal recourse for any losses resulting from undertaking any investment in the Issue pursuant to reliance on the information in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus based on, or derived from, the Report. You should consult your own advisors and undertake an independent assessment of information in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus based on, or derived from, the Report before making any investment decision regarding the Issue. Please see the chapter titled “Industry Overview” beginning on page 113 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus. For the disclaimers associated with the Report, see “Certain Conventions, Use of Financial Information and Market Data and Currency of Presentation –Industry and Market Data” beginning on page 21 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

59. Global economic, political and social conditions may harm our ability to do business, increase our costs and negatively affect our stock price.

Global economic and political factors that are beyond our control, influence forecasts and directly affect performance. These factors include interest rates, rates of economic growth, fiscal and monetary policies of governments, inflation, deflation, foreign exchange fluctuations, consumer credit availability, fluctuations in commodities markets, consumer debt levels, unemployment trends and other matters that influence consumer confidence, spending and tourism. Increasing volatility in financial markets may cause these factors to change with a greater degree of frequency and magnitude, which may negatively affect our stock prices.

60. Foreign investors are subject to foreign investment restrictions under Indian law that limits our ability to attract foreign investors, which may adversely impact the market price of the Equity Shares.

Under the foreign exchange regulations currently in force in India, transfer of shares between non-residents and residents are freely permitted (subject to certain exceptions) if they comply with the pricing guidelines and reporting requirements specified by the RBI. If the transfer of shares, which are sought to be transferred, is not in compliance with such pricing guidelines or reporting requirements or fall under any of the exceptions referred to above, then the prior approval of the RBI will be required. Additionally, shareholders who seek to convert the Rupee proceeds from a sale of shares in India into foreign currency and repatriate that foreign currency from India will require a no-objection/ tax clearance certificate from the income tax authority. There can be no assurance that any approval required from the RBI or any other government agency can be obtained on any particular terms or at all.

61. Any downgrading of India's sovereign rating by an independent agency may harm our ability to raise financing.

Any adverse revisions to India's credit ratings for domestic and international debt by international rating agencies may adversely impact our ability to raise additional financing, and the interest rates and other commercial terms at which such additional financing may be available. This could have an adverse effect on our business and future financial performance, our ability to obtain financing for capital expenditures and the trading price of our Equity Shares.

62. The occurrence of natural or man-made disasters could adversely affect our results of operations, cash flows and financial condition. Famine, War, Hostilities, terrorist attacks, civil unrest and other acts of violence could adversely affect the financial markets and our business.

The occurrence of natural disasters, including cyclones, storms, floods, earthquakes, famine, tsunamis, tornadoes, fires, explosions, pandemic, disease and man-made disasters, including acts of terrorism and military actions, could adversely affect our results of operations, cash flows or financial condition. Our operations may be adversely affected by natural disasters and/or severe weather conditions, which can result in damage to our seeds inventory and hamper our productivity and may slow down our business operations temporarily or any other factor, which can adversely affect agriculture market in which we operate. In recent years, the extent and severity of these natural disasters determine their impact on the Indian economy. Prolonged spells of abnormal rainfall or other natural calamities could have a negative impact on the Indian economy, which could adversely affect our business, prospects, financial condition and results of operations as well as the price of the Equity Shares.

In addition, India has witnessed local civil disturbances in recent years, in particular communal violence across ethnic or communal lines involving conflicts, riots and other forms of violence between communities of different religious faith or ethnic origins, and it is possible that future civil unrest as well as other adverse social, economic or political events in India could have an adverse effect on our business. Terrorist attacks and other acts of violence or war may adversely affect the Indian securities markets. In addition, any deterioration in international relations, especially between India and its neighbouring countries, may result in investor concern regarding regional stability which could adversely affect the price of the Equity Shares. Such incidents could also create a greater perception that investment in Indian companies involves a higher degree of risk and could have an adverse effect on our business and the market price of the Equity Shares.

63. A third party could be prevented from acquiring control of us because of the anti-takeover provisions under Indian law.

There are provisions in Indian law that may discourage a third party from attempting to take control over us, even if a change in control would result in the purchase of your Equity Shares at a premium to the market price or would otherwise be beneficial to you. Under the SEBI (Substantial Acquisition of Shares and Takeovers) Regulations, 2011 an acquirer has been defined as "any person who, directly or indirectly, acquires or agrees to acquire shares or voting rights or control over a company, whether individually or acting in concert with others". These provisions may discourage or prevent certain types of transactions involving an actual or threatened change in control of us.

64. Our ability to raise foreign capital may be constrained by Indian law.

As an Indian Company, we are subject to exchange controls that regulate borrowing in foreign currencies. Regulatory restrictions may limit our financing sources for our projects under development and hence could constrain our ability to obtain financings on competitive terms and refinance existing indebtedness. In addition, we cannot assure you that an adverse effect on our ability to raise foreign capital, which in turn may affect our business, prospects, financial condition and results of operation.

65. Fluctuation in the exchange rate between the Indian Rupee and foreign currencies may have an adverse effect on the value of our Equity Shares, independent of our operating results.

On listing, our Equity Shares will be quoted in Indian Rupees on the Stock Exchanges. Any dividends in respect of our Equity Shares will also be paid in Indian Rupees and subsequently converted into the relevant foreign currency for repatriation, if required. Any adverse movement in currency exchange rates during the time that it takes to undertake such conversion may reduce the net dividend to foreign investors. In addition, any adverse movement in currency exchange rates during a delay in repatriating outside India the proceeds from a sale of Equity Shares, for example, because of a delay in regulatory approvals that may be required for the sale of Equity Shares may reduce the proceeds received by Equity Shareholders.

For example, the exchange rate between the Rupee and the U.S. dollar has fluctuated substantially in recent years and may continue to fluctuate substantially in the future, which may have an adverse effect on the trading price of our Equity Shares and returns on our Equity Shares, independent of our operating results.

66. Holders of Equity Shares may be restricted in their ability to exercise pre-emptive rights under Indian law and thereby suffer future dilution of their ownership position.

A public limited company incorporated in India must offer its equity shareholders pre-emptive rights to subscribe to a proportionate number of Equity Shares to maintain their existing ownership, prior to issuance of any new Equity Shares, unless the pre-emptive rights have been waived by the adoption of a special resolution by a three-fourths majority of the equity shareholders voting on such resolution.

If you are a foreign investor and the law of the foreign jurisdiction that you are in does not permit the exercise of such pre-emptive rights without our filing an offering document or registration statement with the applicable authority in such foreign jurisdiction, you will be unable to exercise such pre-emptive rights, unless we make such a filing. If we elect not to file a registration statement, the new securities may be issued to a custodian, who may sell the securities for your benefit. The value such custodian receives on the sale of any such securities and the related transaction costs cannot be predicted. To the extent that you are unable to exercise pre-emptive rights granted in respect of our Equity Shares, your proportional interests in our Company would be diluted.

We believe that such alternate arrangements would be available to fund any such shortfalls. Further, in case of variations in the actual utilization of funds earmarked for the purposes set forth above, increased fund requirements for a particular purpose may be financed by surplus funds, if any, available in respect of the other purposes for which funds are being raised in the Issue.

Consequently, the fund requirements of our Company are subject to revisions in the future at the discretion of the management. In the event of any shortfall of funds for the activities proposed to be financed out of the Net Proceeds as stated above, our Company may re-allocate the Net Proceeds to the activities where such shortfall has arisen, subject to compliance with applicable laws. Further, in case of a shortfall in the Net Proceeds or cost overruns, our management may explore a range of options including utilizing our internal accruals or seeking debt financing. The global economy is projected to experience a deceleration in growth, with global GDP expanding by 2.8% in CY 2025, down from 3.3% in CY 2024. This slowdown is attributed to escalating trade tensions, particularly due to new U.S. tariffs, and heightened policy uncertainties. Global headline inflation is expected to decline to 4.3% in CY 2025 and further to 3.6% in CY 2026, as inflationary pressures ease across advanced economies, aided by tighter monetary policy, improved labour market conditions, and the resolution of supply disruptions. However, global trade growth is forecasted to slow significantly to 1.7% in CY 2025, reflecting the effects of escalating trade barriers and geopolitical instability.

In China, economic prospects remain constrained as the IMF downgraded its CY 2025 GDP growth forecast to 4.0%, due to persistent challenges in the real estate sector, weak consumer demand, and trade-related pressures. In Europe, growth is expected to stagnate, with Germany's GDP forecast at 0.0% in CY 2025, amidst trade disruptions and domestic weaknesses. The EU is actively seeking to address these challenges through renewed trade dialogue with the U.S.

Meanwhile, India continues to show resilience, with the IMF projecting stable real GDP growth of 6.2% in CY 2025, followed by a slight uptick to 6.3% in CY 2026. This is supported by robust rural consumption and sustained infrastructure investment. The IMF notes that India remains one of the fastest-growing major economies, driven by favourable demographics, expanding digital infrastructure, and rising investment activity. Consumer price inflation in India is projected to moderate to 4.2% in CY 2025, staying within the Reserve Bank of India's (RBI) target range of 2–6%, which helps maintain purchasing power and economic stability. The IMF also highlights the importance of continued structural reforms in India, particularly in labour markets, logistics, and capital formation, to sustain medium-term growth momentum.

Overall, while inflation is declining globally, the economic outlook remains clouded by geopolitical uncertainty, trade fragmentation, and region-specific structural challenges. However, India's relative macroeconomic stability, demographic advantage, and ongoing investment cycle place it in a strong position amid global headwinds.

1.1 Global GDP Growth Scenario

The global economy began to recover from its lowest levels following the lifting of lockdowns in 2020 and 2021. The pandemic-induced lockdown was a key factor that severely disrupted economic activities, leading to a recession in CY 2020, where global GDP contracted by -2.7%.

In CY 2021, supply chain disruptions significantly impacted both advanced economies and low-income developing economies. The rapid spread of the Delta variant and the threat of new variants in mid-2021 further heightened uncertainty in the global economic environment.

Global economic activity saw a sharper-than-expected slowdown in CY 2022. The highest inflation in decades, observed in 2022, forced most central banks to tighten their monetary & fiscal policies. Russia's invasion of Ukraine exacerbated global food supply issues, further increasing the cost of living.

Despite initial resilience in early CY 2023, marked by a rebound from the pandemic and progress in curbing inflation from the previous year's highs, the situation remained precarious. Economic activity continued to lag its pre-pandemic trajectory, especially in emerging markets and developing economies, leading to widening regional disparities. Several factors impeded recovery, including the lasting impacts of the pandemic, geopolitical tensions, tightening monetary policies to combat inflation, reductions in fiscal support amid high debt levels, and extreme weather conditions. As a result, global growth slowed from 3.6% in CY 2022 to 3.5% in CY 2023.

The global economy maintained moderate momentum in CY 2024, with real GDP growth estimated at 3.3%, supported by easing inflationary pressures, recovering supply chains, and resilient consumer demand in some major economies. Advanced economies, particularly the U.S., benefitted from strong labour markets and improved private consumption. However, growth remained uneven across regions, with emerging markets facing tighter financial conditions and subdued export demand. Inflation declined faster than anticipated in many regions, enabling some central banks to consider gradual monetary easing by the end of the year.

1.2 Historical GDP Growth Trends

F – Forecast, Source – IMF World Economic Outlook April 2025

Note: Advanced Economies and Emerging & Developing Economies are as per the classification of the World Economic Outlook (WEO). This classification is not based on strict criteria, economic or otherwise, and it has evolved over time. It comprises of 40 countries under the Advanced Economies including the G7 (the United States, Japan, Germany, France, Italy, the United Kingdom, and Canada) and selected countries from the Euro Zone (Germany, Italy, France etc.). The group of emerging market and developing economies (156) includes all those that are not classified as Advanced Economies (India, China, Brazil, Malaysia etc.)

In the current scenario, global GDP growth is projected to decelerate to 2.8% in CY 2025, reflecting mounting economic pressures across both advanced and emerging markets. This marks a significant slowdown driven by intensifying trade fragmentation, the impact of new U.S. tariffs, and elevated geopolitical tensions. Structural weaknesses such as the ongoing real estate crisis in China, stagnant growth in the Eurozone, and tight financial conditions in major economies are expected to weigh heavily on global output. Additionally, stress in housing and banking sectors, coupled with subdued industrial activity, is contributing to a muted growth outlook. On the inflation front, the IMF projects global headline inflation to decline to 4.3% in CY 2025, continuing a disinflationary trend as energy prices stabilize and supply-side disruptions ease. The softening of labour markets—reflected in lower job vacancy rates and modest increases in unemployment—is also expected to help reduce core inflation. This provides room for some central banks to initiate cautious interest rate cuts, although the broader economic outlook remains uncertain due to persistent global risks.

1.3 GDP Growth Across Major Regions

GDP growth across major global regions—including Europe, Latin America & the Caribbean, Middle East & Central Asia, and Sub-Saharan Africa—continues to display varied trajectories. While some regions are stabilizing post-pandemic, others remain challenged by structural and cyclical issues. The global outlook presents a mixed scenario, with emerging economies continuing to outperform advanced economies.

Source-IMF World Economic Outlook April 2025 update.

In Emerging and Developing Asia, growth is projected to moderate from 5.3% in CY 2024 to 4.5% in CY 2025, before recovering slightly to 4.6% in CY 2026. India is expected to grow at 6.2% in CY 2025, supported by resilient rural consumption and sustained infrastructure investments, though lower than 6.5% growth recorded in CY 2024. In contrast, China's growth is likely to decelerate to 4.0% in CY 2025, amid persistent real estate concerns and weak domestic demand.

Sub-Saharan Africa is projected to grow at 3.8% in CY 2025, slightly below the 4.0% growth in CY 2024, with a further improvement to 4.2% in CY 2026. The recovery is being aided by improved weather conditions and better functioning supply chains.

In the Middle East and Central Asia, the economy is forecasted to expand at 3.0% in CY 2025, up from 2.4% in CY 2024, and further strengthen to 3.5% in CY 2026, driven by stabilization in oil production and ongoing economic reforms.

For Latin America and the Caribbean, modest growth of 2.0% is forecast for CY 2025, holding steady from CY 2024, with expectations of a rebound to 2.4% in CY 2026, helped by stronger macroeconomic management across key economies.

Emerging and Developing Europe remains subdued, with growth estimated at 2.1% in CY 2025, down from 3.4% in CY 2024, expected to be stable at 2.1% by CY 2026. The region continues to face structural manufacturing challenges, particularly in major economies like Germany.

Overall, while global growth is expected to remain steady, regional disparities persist, influenced by a combination of domestic challenges, external geopolitical tensions, and fluctuating commodity prices.

1.4 Global Economic Outlook

At the midpoint of the year, so far in 2025 the global economy continues to exhibit mixed performance, with divergence in outcomes across regions due to differences in economic growth, inflation dynamics, and policy responses. The global GDP growth is projected at 2.8% in CY 2025, down from an estimated 3.3% in CY 2024. While short-term prospects have improved since early 2024 due to easing inflation and gradual loosening of monetary policy in several regions, the broader environment remains challenging. Structural headwinds, such as tighter credit conditions, supply-side bottlenecks, and lingering geopolitical risks, are keeping global growth below historical averages.

The United States has continued to outperform other advanced economies, with growth projected at 1.8% in 2025, though slightly down from 2.8% in 2024, as the economy absorbs the lagged effects of previous monetary tightening and persistent inflation. In contrast, the Euro Area remains subdued, with GDP growth expected to 0.8% in 2025, supported by the European Central Bank's first-interest rate cuts since 2019 (implemented in June 2024) and stronger domestic demand. However, countries like Germany, France, and Italy continue to struggle due to weak manufacturing performance, whereas Greece and Spain have benefited from robust tourism activity.

In China, growth has held up at a projected 4.0% for CY 2025, supported by targeted stimulus and a gradual recovery in the real estate sector. Growth in the rest of Asia is also benefiting from a revival in global trade and domestic demand. India remains one of the strongest performers globally, with GDP growth forecasted at 6.2% in 2025, supported by robust consumption, capital investment, and favourable demographics.

In Latin America and the Caribbean, growth is more uneven. Larger economies like Brazil and Mexico are seeing moderate expansions, but the overall regional outlook is weaker, with GDP growth forecast at 2.0% in 2025, due to external headwinds, commodity price volatility, and political uncertainty. Meanwhile, Sub-Saharan Africa's growth is expected to slow slightly to 3.8%, as global financial conditions tighten, and oil-exporting nations face declining revenues. The Middle East and North Africa (MENA) region is also seeing tempered prospects, with growth revised down to 2.6%, influenced by lower oil prices and ongoing geopolitical pressures.

Globally, industrial production has remained sluggish through the first half of 2025, constrained by high interest rates, trade fragmentation, and lingering supply chain disruptions. However, a mild recovery is anticipated in the second half of the year as global trade stabilizes and domestic demand for goods strengthens. Central banks in several advanced economies—including the Eurozone, Switzerland, Sweden, and Canada—have begun cutting rates to support demand, though inflation trends remain uneven. Disinflation has progressed slower than expected, particularly in services and wage-heavy sectors, making monetary easing cautious and data-dependent.

Overall, the global economy appears to be stabilizing, but growth in CY 2025 remains below historical averages. Advanced economies continue to grow modestly under the weight of tight policies and weak external demand, while emerging markets, particularly in Asia, show stronger but slowing momentum. The outlook for the remainder of 2025 depends significantly on geopolitical developments, the trajectory of inflation, and the pace of monetary easing.

2. India's Macroeconomic Scenario

2.1 Gross Domestic Product (GDP)

India Expected to Grow at Twice the Pace of Global Economic Growth

The global economy continues to face persistent challenges, including the lingering effects of the COVID-19 pandemic, heightened geopolitical tensions, and climate-related disruptions that have affected energy and food supply chains. Global real GDP growth is projected at 2.8% in 2025, indicating a moderation in global momentum. In contrast, India's real GDP is projected to grow at 6.2% in 2025, continuing its trend of significantly outpacing global averages and reaffirming its position as the fastest-growing major economy. This implies that India is expected to grow at more than twice the pace of global GDP, supported by strong domestic demand, structural reforms, and increased infrastructure investment. India's resilience among the G20 economies further strengthens its role as a key driver of global economic growth in the coming years.

India's Economic Growth Momentum Remains Strong - Surpassed USD 4 Trillion.

In FY 2024-25, India was the fifth-largest economy globally, with an estimated real Gross Domestic Product (GDP) at constant prices of INR 184.88 lakh crore, against the Provisional Estimate of GDP for the year 2023-24 of INR 173.82 lakh crore registering a GDP growth rate of 6.4% as compared to 8.2% in FY 2023-24. Since FY 2005, India's GDP growth has consistently outpaced global economic growth, often growing at nearly twice the global average, and this trend is expected to continue over the medium term.

India and Top 5 Global Economies GDP Growth Forecast

Note: P = Projections, Source: IMF World Economic Outlook April 2025 update.

In September 2024, India achieved a significant milestone by overtaking Japan to become the third most powerful nation in the Asia-Pacific region, as per the Asia Power Index 2024. India's overall score rose to 39.1, reflecting a 2.8-point increase from the previous year, driven by growing influence across economic, military, and diplomatic dimensions.

Key factors behind India's rise include its strong economic performance, expanding and youthful workforce, and increasing strategic engagement across the region. India's Economic Capability improved significantly, supported by its position as the world's third-largest economy in terms of purchasing power parity (PPP). Additionally, a notable increase in its Future Resources score highlights the demographic advantage that is expected to sustain its growth trajectory in the coming years.

2.2 Gross Value Added (GVA)

Gross Value Added (GVA) is the measure of the value of goods and services produced in an economy. GVA gives a picture of the supply side whereas GDP represents consumption.

Industry and Services sector leading the recovery charge

- India's economy demonstrated robust growth across various sectors. The gap between GDP and GVA growth turned positive. The positive gap between GDP and GVA growth indicates robust tax collections contributing to GDP growth.
- India's sector-wise economic performance in FY 2024–25 reveals a shift in momentum across its primary, secondary, and tertiary sectors, with notable differences compared to the previous fiscal year.
- The Primary Sector—comprising agriculture, livestock, forestry, fishing, and mining & quarrying—registered a growth of 3.6% in FY25, showing a notable improvement from the 2.1% growth in FY24. This uptick can be attributed to stronger performance in agriculture and allied activities, along with moderate gains in mining and quarrying. However, erratic monsoon patterns and rising input costs may have constrained agricultural output during the year.
- In contrast, the Secondary Sector—which includes manufacturing, electricity, gas, water supply & other utilities, and construction—recorded a solid growth of 6.5% in FY25, though lower than the impressive 9.7% growth seen in the previous year. This resilient performance was primarily driven by a notable recovery in manufacturing and robust momentum in infrastructure-related segments like construction and utilities.
- The Tertiary Sector or services sector posted 7.2% growth in FY25, slightly lower than the 7.6% achieved in FY24, yet it remained a major pillar of overall economic growth. Strong performances were observed in trade, hotels, transport, financial services, real estate, and professional services. However, public administration and defence services saw more modest growth, slightly dampening the overall momentum in this segment.
- Overall, growth in India's real Gross Value Added (GVA) in FY25 was primarily driven by the resurgence of the secondary sector and sustained strength in key segments of the services sector, even as the primary sector showed signs of moderation.

Sectoral Growth (Y-o-Y % Growth) - at Constant Prices

Sector-wise growth in GVA at constant (2011-12) prices (in %)	FY 2024	FY 2025
Primary	2.1	3.6
Secondary	9.7	6.5
Tertiary	7.6	7.2

2.3 Consumer Price Index (CPI)

Inflation Stable Inflationary Environment

In fiscal year 2025 (FY25), India's General Index inflation, as measured by the Consumer Price Index (CPI), averaged 4.6%, marking the lowest annual inflation rate since 2018–19. This moderation in inflation reflects a significant improvement in the country's price stability post-COVID. In March 2025, CPI Inflation stood at 3.34%, the lowest monthly rate since August 2019, indicating sustained disinflationary momentum in recent months.

Source: - RBI, Annual Report-Inflation, Money and Credit Dated May 29th, 2025

Several key factors contributed to this decline in inflation:

The Reserve Bank of India (RBI) pursued a pro-growth monetary policy, aiming to strike a balance between supporting economic recovery and containing inflation. In parallel, the government actively intervened in food markets, particularly by augmenting buffer stocks of essential commodities and releasing them strategically to stabilize prices. These coordinated efforts helped ease supply-side pressures, especially on food inflation.

Looking ahead, projected CPI inflation for FY26 to average around 4%, signalling continued focus on maintaining price stability. In support of this trajectory, the RBI recently announced a cut in the repo rate, which is expected to result in a more accommodative monetary policy stance in the coming months. This environment of low inflation and easing interest rates may provide a favourable backdrop for economic expansion in the near term.

2.4 India Per Capita GDP Forecast

Per capita GDP growth for India is estimated at 9.19 % CAGR between FY 2025-FY 2030. Increased individual incomes are expected to create additional discretionary spending, which may be beneficial for the sector.

2.5 Private Final Consumption Expenditure (PFCE)

Private Final Consumption Expenditure (PFCE) represents the total spending by resident households on final consumption of goods and services, serving as a key indicator of consumer demand and overall economic well-being. It reflects the extent of household consumption and plays a crucial role in driving GDP growth. In FY2025, PFCE at constant prices rose to 56.7% of GDP, up from 56.1% in FY2024, indicating a gradual improvement in household spending patterns. This increase suggests stronger consumer confidence, supported by factors such as easing inflation, improving income levels, and a favourable consumption environment.

2.6 IIP Growth – Index of Industrial Production

As per the Index of Industrial Production (IIP), the industrial sector grew by 4.0% in FY 2025, moderating from 5.9% in FY 2024 and 5.2% in FY 2023. This deceleration in overall IIP growth in FY 2025 reflects a softening of industrial momentum amidst global headwinds and tighter financial conditions.

Among key components:

- Manufacturing (which holds a 77.6% weight in IIP) registered a slower growth of 3.9% in FY 2025, compared to 5.5% in FY 2024 and 4.7% in FY 2023.
- Mining growth also moderated sharply to 2.9% in FY 2025 from 7.5% in FY 2024 and 5.8% in FY 2023.
- Electricity growth remained relatively stable at 5.1% in FY 2025, slightly down from 7.1% in FY 2024 and significantly lower than 8.9% in FY 2023.

This slowdown indicates tightening domestic demand and spillover effects from a weaker global industrial cycle.

Use-Based Classification Trends:

Source: Ministry of Statistics & Programme Implementation (MOSPI)

According to the use-based classification:

- Capital Goods segment growth slowed to 5.5% in FY 2025, down from a high of 13.1% in FY 2023 and 6.3% in FY 2024, indicating a reduction in investment momentum.
- Primary Goods also witnessed slower growth at 3.9%, compared to 6.1% in FY 2024 and 7.5% in FY 2023.

- Intermediate Goods rebounded modestly to 4.1% in FY 2025, up from 3.8% in FY 2023, although still lower than 5.3% in FY 2024.
- Infrastructure/Construction Goods slowed to 6.6% in FY 2025 from 9.7% in FY 2024 and 8.4% in FY 2023, pointing to softening construction and infrastructure activity.
- Consumer Durables grew significantly by 7.9%, rebounding from 3.6% in FY 2024 and 0.6% in FY 2023, indicating improved demand in consumer electronics and appliances.
- In contrast, Consumer Non-Durables contracted by 1.6% in FY 2025, reversing the 4.1% growth in FY 2024, likely reflecting subdued rural and essential goods demand.

The divergence in growth across segments suggests an uneven industrial recovery in FY 2025. While certain consumer categories have rebounded, investment-related and primary sectors remain under pressure.

2.7 Overview on Key Demographic Parameters

2.7.1 Population growth and Urbanization

India's economic growth and expanding private consumption are intrinsically linked to its demographic and urbanization trends. According to the World Bank, India's population is estimated to have reached approximately 1.44 billion in 2024, reaffirming its position as the world's most populous country, ahead of China. This continued growth reflects an expanding labour force and consumer base, both of which are critical to sustaining long-term economic development.

A key metric in demographic analysis—the age dependency ratio, defined as the ratio of dependents (individuals aged below 15 or above 64) to the working-age population (15–64 years)—has been on a downward trajectory for several decades. From a high of 76% in 1983, the dependency ratio declined to 47% in 2023 and is estimated at 50.2% in 2024. This decline signifies that for every 100 working-age individuals, there are only about 50 dependents, indicating a favourable demographic dividend. A greater share of the population is now within the working-age group, potentially contributing to enhanced economic productivity and income generation.

Trend of India Population vis-à-vis dependency ratio

Source: World Bank Database

However, a parallel trend is emerging in the form of a rising old-age dependency ratio—the proportion of individuals aged 65 and above relative to the working-age population. This figure has gradually increased, reaching 10.4% in 2024, suggesting the onset of an aging demographic shift. This highlights the growing need for robust healthcare systems, pension reforms, and social security mechanisms to address future challenges associated with an aging population.

India's youthful demographic remains one of its most significant advantages. With a median age of around 29 years, India has one of the youngest populations globally. Nearly one-fifth of the world's youth resides in India, and as millions enter the workforce each year, this demographic bulge offers enormous potential—provided it is met with adequate job creation, education, and skills training.

Urbanization, too, is transforming India's socio-economic fabric. The urban population rose from 413 million in 2013 (32% of total population) to 519.5 million in 2023 (36.4%), and further to approximately 535 million in 2024 (36.9%), according to World Bank estimates. This rapid growth in urban areas underscores the need for sustainable urban planning, investment in infrastructure, and development of smart cities to accommodate and benefit from the shifting population dynamics.

Urbanization Trend in India

2.7.2 Labour Force in India

India's labour force has experienced significant growth over the past decade. In 2010, the total labour force was approximately 467.56 million. By 2024, this number had increased to 607.69 million, reflecting a Compound Annual Growth Rate (CAGR) of 1.89% over the 14-year period.

This upward trend underscores the expanding working-age population and the country's ongoing economic development. However, it also highlights the need for effective employment policies to ensure that the growing labour force is adequately absorbed into productive sectors.

The labour force participation rate (LFPR) has also seen fluctuations, influenced by various socio-economic factors. As of 2024, the LFPR stood at 45.1%, indicating the percentage of the working-age population that is either employed or actively seeking employment.

These statistics emphasize the importance of implementing strategies that not only create employment opportunities but also enhance the quality and inclusivity of jobs across different sectors of the economy.

2.7.3 Breakdown of Employment by Sector

According to the Periodic Labour Force Survey (PLFS) 2023–24, the employment distribution across various sectors exhibits distinct gender-based patterns. A significant portion of male workers are engaged in agriculture, followed by notable participation in construction, manufacturing, and trade-related activities. In contrast, female workers are predominantly employed in agriculture, with considerable involvement in manufacturing and other services sectors. While female representation in trade and construction is lower compared to males, Additionally, a substantial proportion of employed women are self-employed, often contributing as unpaid helpers in household enterprises or operating small businesses, indicating a reliance on informal employment avenues.

2.7.4 Labour Laws in India

Labour is a subject under the Concurrent List of the Indian Constitution, enabling both the Central and State Governments to frame relevant legislation. In a major reform initiative, the Government of India has consolidated 29 existing central labour laws into four comprehensive Labour Codes to simplify compliance, reduce multiplicity of definitions, and promote transparency. These include:

- The Code on Wages, 2019
- The Industrial Relations Code, 2020
- The Code on Social Security, 2020
- The Occupational Safety, Health and Working Conditions Code, 2020

As of 31st December 2024, the Central Government and a majority of States/Union Territories had pre-published draft rules under all four Labour Codes. Regional consultations were held to align state-level rules with the central framework. Once fully implemented, these Codes are expected to harmonize the needs of workers and industry, facilitate ease of doing business, and support employment generation.

Additionally, the Ministry of Labour & Employment is revamping the Shram Suvidha Portal to improve regulatory compliance and has launched the e-Shram Portal to register workers from the unorganised sector. Over 30 crore registrations have been completed, and the portal has been integrated with 12 key social welfare schemes, enabling targeted delivery of benefits.

2.7.5 Disposable Income and Consumer Spending

Gross National Disposable Income (GNDI) represents the total income available to a nation's residents for consumption and saving after accounting for income transfers with the rest of the world. In FY24, Per capita GNDI grew by 9.85%, followed by a moderate growth of 8.05% in FY25. This steady increase indicates that households and businesses had more income at their disposal, which is critical for supporting both consumption and savings—key components of economic resilience and expansion.

The rise in GNDI has translated into higher consumer spending, as reflected in the growth of Private Final Consumption Expenditure (PFCE), which measures the total value of goods and services consumed by households. Per Capita PFCE grew by 8.04% in FY24 and further accelerated to 10.09% in FY25, highlighting strong consumer confidence and robust domestic demand.

2.8 Union Budget FY25-26 Highlights

The Union Budget FY 2025–26, presented by Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman, introduces a comprehensive set of measures aimed at stimulating economic growth, enhancing infrastructure, and fostering inclusive development. With a focus on sectors such as agriculture, MSMEs, infrastructure, innovation, and exports, the budget seeks to create a conducive environment for sustained economic expansion.

- Capital Expenditure and Infrastructure Development

The government has earmarked a substantial Rs.11.21 lakh crore (3.1% of GDP) for capital expenditure in FY 2025–26. This allocation is directed towards infrastructure projects, including rural development, manufacturing, and skill-building initiatives. Notably, the Urban Challenge Fund has been established with a corpus of Rs. 1 lakh crore, aimed at financing 25% of the cost of bankable urban infrastructure projects, thereby promoting sustainable urban development.

- Support for MSMEs

Recognizing the pivotal role of Micro, Small, and Medium Enterprises (MSMEs) in India's economic landscape, the budget introduces several measures to bolster this sector. The Credit Guarantee cover has been enhanced to Rs. 10 crore, unlocking Rs. 1.5 lakh crore in additional funding for MSMEs over the next five years. Additionally, the establishment of a Fund of Funds with a Rs. 10,000 crore corpus aims to provide equity support to startups and potential MSMEs, focusing on high-growth sectors such as electronics and renewable energy.

- Tax Reforms and Disposable Income

To stimulate consumption and investment, the budget introduces significant tax reforms. The tax-free income threshold has been raised to Rs.12 lakh, and the new tax regime offers reduced rates for higher income brackets. These changes are expected to increase disposable income, thereby encouraging higher savings and investment among the middle class.

- Focus on Agriculture and Exports

The budget prioritizes agriculture as a key engine of development, with increased allocations for agricultural credit and initiatives aimed at enhancing productivity. Furthermore, measures to promote exports include the reduction of customs duties on select goods and the introduction of policies to facilitate easier market access for Indian products.

- Urban Development Initiatives

A significant increase in the budget allocation for the Ministry of Housing and Urban Affairs to Rs. 96,777 crore reflects the government's commitment to urban development. Key initiatives include the establishment of the Urban Challenge Fund, enhanced loans under the PM SVANidhi scheme, and substantial provisions for the Pradhan Mantri Awas Yojana and Urban Rejuvenation Mission, all aimed at improving urban infrastructure and living standards.

The Union Budget FY 2025–26 presents a balanced approach to economic growth by addressing immediate consumption needs and laying the foundation for long-term sustainability. Through targeted investments in infrastructure, support for MSMEs, tax reforms, and sector-specific initiatives, the budget aims to foster an inclusive and resilient economy. These measures are expected to create new opportunities for financial institutions, as the growing demand for investment products will provide avenues for expansion and innovation in the financial services sector.

2.9 Concluding Remarks about Macroeconomic Scenario

The major headwinds to global economic growth remain significant, with escalating geopolitical tensions, volatile global commodity prices, high interest rates, inflationary pressures, instability in international financial markets, climate change, rising public debt, and the rapid evolution of new technologies. Despite these challenges, India's economy is relatively well-positioned compared to other emerging markets. According to the latest IMF forecast, India's GDP growth is expected to be 6.2% in 2025, maintaining its position as the fastest-growing major economy globally, well above the global growth projection of 2.8%. Key positive factors for the Indian economy include continued strong domestic demand, robust government support for capital expenditure, moderating inflation, growing investments in technology, and improving business confidence.

India's strategic position as a manufacturing hub is further strengthened by government initiatives, a skilled labour force, and a dynamic startup ecosystem, all of which bolster the country's economic outlook. The ongoing reforms and focus on innovation are enabling India to seize emerging opportunities, making it a growing player in the global manufacturing landscape. In addition, several high-frequency growth indicators—such as the Purchasing Managers' Index (PMI), E-way bills, bank credit, toll collections, and GST collections—have shown a positive trajectory in FY25. The normalization of employment post-economic reopening is expected to provide further support to consumption expenditure.

Public investment is also poised to grow, with the government allocating a significant Rs. 11.21 lakh crore for capital expenditure in FY25. The private sector's investment intentions are showing positive signs, as evidenced by increased new project investments and a strong import of capital goods. Furthermore, rural demand is likely to improve, bolstered by healthy sowing, better reservoir levels, and the positive progress of the southwest monsoon, coupled with the government's push for infrastructure investment and other policy measures. These factors are expected to further support the investment cycle and strengthen India's economic resilience in the coming years.

3. Industry Overview – Plastic Moulding Industry

Some may associate plastic with everyday convenience—water bottles, storage containers, or household gadgets—but behind these common items lies a vast and complex industrial landscape. The plastic moulding industry is one of the most dynamic and essential segments of modern manufacturing, shaping components across a diverse range of applications. From sleek automotive interiors to modular office chairs, refrigerator linings, and lightweight appliance housings, plastic moulding plays a pivotal role in both functional and aesthetic design. Over the decades, it has become one of the most competitive and innovation-driven sectors globally, powering progress in multiple allied industries.

The plastic moulding industry's impact goes far beyond producing basic consumer goods. It spans sectors as critical and wide-ranging as automotive manufacturing, home appliances, electronics, construction, and even healthcare. The ability to produce precise, durable, and lightweight components at scale has made plastic moulding indispensable to modern industry. As sustainability and energy efficiency become global priorities, plastic is increasingly used to replace heavier materials like metal or glass, particularly in automotive and electronics applications. This shift is helping industries reduce weight, lower costs, improve energy efficiency, and meet stringent environmental regulations.

China, the United States, and Germany are the key global hubs of plastic moulding production, each contributing unique capabilities. China leads the world in plastics machinery production and moulded goods exports, backed by a vast industrial base and export-oriented manufacturing policies. The U.S., with its emphasis on high-tech applications, supplies advanced components to sectors like aerospace, automotive, and medical devices. Meanwhile, Germany is renowned for its engineering excellence and leads in precision injection moulding for the automotive and industrial sectors.

Technological innovation is rapidly transforming the plastic moulding industry. From computer-aided die design (CAD/CAM) to automation in injection moulding machines, and now the adoption of Industry 4.0 practices such as AI-based quality control and IoT-connected equipment, the sector is undergoing a digital renaissance. The integration of smart plastics into modular furniture and home appliances is allowing manufacturers to create multifunctional, ergonomic, and energy-efficient products tailored to modern consumer lifestyles.

Globally, trends such as automotive lightweighting are redefining how vehicles are built. By replacing traditional metal parts with high-performance plastic components, manufacturers are reducing vehicle weights by up to 20%, improving fuel efficiency, and lowering emissions—critical for meeting global climate targets. In home appliances, the use of plastic has led to quieter, more energy-efficient machines that are also easier to produce and recycle. Similarly, in the furniture segment, plastic moulding enables sleek, stackable, and customizable designs that appeal to modern urban living.

As environmental awareness grows, the industry is also evolving to align with circular economy goals. Governments around the world, including India, are implementing stricter plastic waste management rules and encouraging manufacturers to adopt recycled polymers and biodegradable alternatives. This shift toward sustainability is opening new avenues for innovation, from bioplastics to closed-loop recycling systems.

India, with its burgeoning manufacturing sector, supportive policy frameworks like Make in India, and abundant technical expertise, is emerging as a vital player in the global plastic moulding value chain. Domestic demand, driven by a growing middle class, urbanization, and industrial expansion, is fueling rapid capacity growth across the country. As India strengthens its role in global manufacturing, its plastic moulding industry is expected to become a key driver of industrial transformation, innovation, and sustainable growth in the years to come.

3.1 Global Plastic Moulding Industry

3.1.1 Market Size & Recovery

The Moulded Plastic Market size was valued at USD 597.08 billion in 2024 and is estimated at USD 632.48 billion in 2025 and is projected to reach USD 1002.77 billion by 2033, at a CAGR of 5.93% during the forecast period (2025-2030). The stable growth of the industry can be attributed to the rising demand for injection moulded parts in end-use industries, including automotive, medical devices, and consumer goods. The continual shift in the manufacturing landscape with the introduction of automation and robotics will continue to propel the growth prospect over the next few years.

Key Manufacturing Hubs: China, USA, Germany

The plastic moulding industry is a cornerstone of global manufacturing, producing critical components used in everything from automotive parts to consumer electronics, home appliances, and furniture. Among the countries leading this industry, China, the United States, and Germany stand out as the most prominent global hubs due to their scale, technological advancement, and industrial integration.

China - China is the largest producer and exporter of plastic products globally. The Yangtze River Delta (Shanghai, Jiangsu, Zhejiang) and the Pearl River Delta (Guangdong) are major hubs for plastic injection moulding and machinery production. China's status as the "world's factory" has been built on decades of consistent investment in industrial infrastructure. The country has developed comprehensive manufacturing clusters that integrate raw material suppliers, mould manufacturers, machine tool producers, and logistics services in proximity. This structure reduces lead times and transportation costs, facilitating cost-effective, large-scale production of plastic components.

China is also among the top global importers and processors of petroleum products, which are the primary raw materials for plastic resins like polyethylene (PE), polypropylene (PP), and polyvinyl chloride (PVC). This access to raw inputs, coupled with in-house polymer manufacturing capabilities, supports both upstream and downstream plastic industries efficiently.

USA - United States: Holding the second position, the U.S. contributes significantly to global manufacturing, with a focus on high-tech and value-added products. The country's manufacturing sector is characterized by advanced technologies and substantial investments in research and development.

Germany: Renowned for its engineering excellence, Germany is a key player in the plastic moulding industry, particularly in automotive and industrial applications. The country's emphasis on precision manufacturing and innovation positions it as a leader in producing high-quality moulded plastic components.

Trends in Automotive Lightweighting, Appliance Plastic Component Integration, and Smart Furniture.

- Automotive Lightweighting - The automotive sector is under mounting regulatory and consumer pressure to improve fuel efficiency and reduce carbon emissions. One of the most effective strategies for achieving these goals is lightweighting—the process of replacing heavy materials with lighter alternatives without compromising safety or structural integrity. High-performance engineering plastics such as polypropylene (PP), polyamide (nylon), and ABS are increasingly replacing steel and aluminium in interior trims, dashboards, bumpers, and under-the-hood applications.
- Appliance Plastic Component Integration - In the home appliance industry, manufacturers are increasingly integrating plastic components into product design for both functional and aesthetic advantages. Plastics allow for greater design freedom, lighter weight, corrosion resistance, electrical insulation, and cost-effective mass production. In refrigerators, for instance, plastic is used for inner linings, trays, and door racks, ensuring ease of cleaning and durability. Washing machines now feature plastic outer bodies, control panels, and knobs that reduce vibration and noise while improving aesthetic appeal. Air conditioners benefit from flame-retardant plastic panels and louvers that offer insulation and design flexibility. These changes not only improve energy efficiency and safety but also contribute to the sleek, modern look consumers expect.
- Smart Furniture Enabled by Plastic Moulding - The rise of smart homes and connected lifestyles is fueling demand for smart furniture—innovative products that merge functionality, technology, and design. Plastic moulding plays a pivotal role in this evolution by enabling the production of ergonomic, modular, and lightweight furniture. Unlike wood or metal, plastics support smooth contours and compact housings essential for modern, tech-embedded furniture. Responding to this trend, established brands like Godrej Interio and Featherlite are introducing IoT-enabled desks, recliners, and workstations featuring plastic-moulded components to meet the needs of urban consumers and remote workers.

3.2 The India's Plastic Moulding Industry

India's plastic moulding industry is a vital pillar of its manufacturing ecosystem, contributing significantly to sectors such as automotive, consumer durables, furniture, electronics, and packaging. As one of the fastest-growing segments within the polymer value chain, the industry is evolving rapidly through technology adoption, increasing localization, and sustainability-driven innovation. Supported by a robust domestic demand and export opportunities, India is emerging as a global manufacturing hub for precision-moulded plastic components.

The plastic moulding sector thrives on its ability to serve a diverse range of applications across critical sectors. From the interior trims and bumper housings in automobiles, to modular office furniture, air conditioner casings, and washing machine drums, moulded plastic components are indispensable to modern manufacturing. The industry is marked by a high degree of customization, design flexibility, and cost-effectiveness, enabled through processes like injection moulding, blow moulding, and thermoforming. Its wide application across both durable and disposable product categories allows the sector to maintain relevance through economic cycles.

A major advantage of the industry lies in its strong MSME base—accounting for nearly 90% of the 50,000+ plastic processing units in India. These enterprises cater to OEMs in automotive clusters like Pune, Chennai, and Gurugram, and to consumer goods manufacturers in Noida, Ahmedabad, and Bengaluru. Simultaneously, the industry is witnessing the emergence of large-scale, technology-driven players investing in high-cavitation tooling, robotic moulding, and Industry 4.0 practices, particularly in high-precision applications such as electronics and medical devices.

The shift towards lightweighting, modular design, and sustainability has created new growth avenues for plastic moulding. For example, the automotive industry's shift from steel to polymer composites is opening demand for under-the-hood and interior parts. In home appliances, the increasing use of injection-moulded casings, knobs, and functional housings is improving energy efficiency and product aesthetics. Meanwhile, the rise of smart furniture and connected home devices is pushing demand for ergonomic, moulded plastic structures that integrate sensors and electronics—offering growth potential in both urban and export markets.

3.2.1 Indian Market Size

India Plastic Moulding Market was valued at USD 8.99 Billion in 2024 and is estimated at USD 9.45 billion in 2025. It is projected to reach USD 14.12 Billion by 2033 with a CAGR of 5.15% during the forecast period. Plastic moulding is a manufacturing technique that produces components and products from plastic materials by shaping molten or softened plastic into specific forms using Molds. This method is extensively utilized across various industries, including automotive, consumer goods, electronics, packaging, and medical devices, owing to its efficiency, versatility, and cost-effectiveness.

3.2.2 Key Applications of Moulded Plastic Components

Plastic moulding finds extensive application across various industries due to its cost-effectiveness, design flexibility, scalability, and material versatility. Some of the most prominent applications include:

- Modular Furniture: Moulded plastic components are extensively used in chairs, storage units, office cubicles, and ergonomic furniture systems. These parts are lightweight, corrosion-resistant, and offer superior surface finish compared to traditional wood or metal.
- Home Appliances: In consumer durables like refrigerators and washing machines, plastic moulding is used to produce outer housings, control panels, knobs, handles, and internal trays. These components enhance energy efficiency, reduce weight, and allow for greater design flexibility.
- Automotive Sector: Automotive applications of plastic moulding include bumpers, dashboards, HVAC ducts, instrument panels, door trims, and other interior and exterior parts. As vehicle manufacturers shift toward lightweighting strategies to improve fuel efficiency and meet emission norms, polymer-based components are replacing metal parts at an increasing rate.

3.2.3 Growing domestic demand and Exports

India's domestic demand for moulded plastic products is rising steadily, fuelled by:

- Rapid urbanization and housing expansion, which boosts demand for modular furniture and plastic-based interior solutions.
- Electrification of households and small businesses, increasing the consumption of moulded plastic in appliances and consumer electronics.
- Growth in the automobile sector, particularly with the rise of electric vehicles (EVs), which depend on lightweight, heat-resistant plastic enclosures and interiors.

3.2.4 Trade Dynamics

Import Trends

1. China - In FY 2024–25, China emerged as the largest supplier of plastic raw materials and moulded components to India, accounting for imports worth USD 6,335.36 million, reflecting a year-on-year growth of 11.79%. This dominance is driven by China's expansive petrochemical infrastructure, vast manufacturing scale, and cost-effective production, making it the most competitive source for a wide range of plastic inputs. China's exports to India span across the entire value chain of plastic moulding. It is a major provider of commodity polymers such as polyethylene (PE), polypropylene (PP), and polyvinyl chloride (PVC), which form the backbone of India's plastic processing and moulding industries. These materials are essential for manufacturing products in packaging, agriculture, construction, and automotive applications.
2. South Korea - In FY 2024–25, South Korea ranked as the second-largest exporter of plastic moulding materials to India, with total imports reaching USD 2,290.87 million, reflecting a modest yet steady year-on-year growth of 1.98%. South Korea's continued relevance in India's plastic value chain stems from its leadership in producing engineering-grade plastics and high-performance polymers, particularly those used in automotive, electrical, and electronics applications.
3. USA- In FY 2024–25, the United States remained a key supplier to India's plastic moulding industry, contributing USD 1,531.08 million in imports. However, this represented a year-on-year decline of 6.21%, indicating a contraction in trade volume compared to the previous fiscal year. Despite this drop, the USA continues to hold strategic importance, particularly for its high-precision polymers, medical-grade plastics, and specialized moulding equipment that are not easily substitutable in critical industrial applications. American exports to India are distinguished by technically advanced materials such as PEEK (Polyetheretherketone) and PTFE (Polytetrafluoroethylene)—high-performance resins used in automotive, aerospace, medical devices, and electronics due to their exceptional thermal stability, chemical resistance, and mechanical strength.
4. Germany - In FY 2024–25, Germany exported plastic-related products worth USD 657.61 million to India, recording a year-on-year growth of 7.09%. This steady rise in imports from Germany underscores India's increasing focus on modernizing its manufacturing infrastructure, particularly in the areas of plastic processing technology, tooling precision, and high-quality material inputs.

Export Trends

1. India's plastic industry has witnessed dynamic export trends in recent years, marked by both resilience and realignment in response to changing global market demands. In FY25 (April 2024 to January 2025), the country's plastic exports reached an impressive Rs. 89,296 crore, equivalent to approximately US$ 10.34 billion, reflecting a year-on-year (YoY) growth of 9.6% over the same period in FY24. This growth trajectory indicates strong global demand for Indian plastic products, particularly in value-added and performance-driven segments.
2. While FY25 shows a strong recovery trend, the preceding year (FY23) experienced a correction. The total value of plastic exports during FY23 stood at US$ 11.96 billion, marking a 10.4% decline compared to US$ 13.35 billion in FY22. This downturn was attributed to global macroeconomic uncertainties, reduced demand in certain sectors, and supply chain disruptions post-COVID. However, despite the overall decline, some segments posted strong growth: Plastic raw materials emerged as the largest export category, accounting for 27.76% of total exports and recording a robust 21.5% increase over FY22.

3.2.5 Country wise

India's plastic industry has established a wide-reaching global footprint, exporting to over 200 countries worldwide. This expansive reach highlights the sector's capability to meet diverse product standards, specifications, and regulatory norms across markets. The country's plastic exports span across raw materials, moulded products, packaging items, medical plastics, composites, and consumer houseware—reflecting the industry's versatility and manufacturing strength.

1. USA - Among the top export destinations, the United States remains the largest market for Indian plastic products. In FY23, exports to the USA were valued at US$ 2.31 billion, accounting for 19.37% of India's total plastic exports. However, this figure marked a 4.71% decline compared to the previous year, likely due to temporary demand fluctuations and inventory corrections in North American markets. Despite the decline, the USA continues to import large volumes of consumer plastics, packaging materials, automotive components, and medical-grade plastics from India due to the industry's compliance with FDA and ASTM standards.
2. China – It is ranked as the second-largest export destination, with plastic imports from India amounting to US$ 690.95 million, representing 5.78% of total exports in FY23. India's plastic exports to China primarily include raw materials, monofilaments, engineering polymers, and films and sheets used in packaging and industrial applications. China's demand for intermediate and base materials for reprocessing and use in its massive manufacturing ecosystem makes it a strategic partner in India's plastics trade.
3. France - Notably, France has become a growing market for Indian plastics, with exports in FY24 valued at approximately Rs. 1,692 crore (US$ 195.93 million). To strengthen its presence in the European market, PLEXCONCIL (The Plastics Export Promotion Council) initiated a partnership with the Indo-French Chamber of Commerce in FY22, focused on market access, certification alignment, and B2B matchmaking for Indian exporters. (Source – IBEF)

To further support export growth, the Indian government has actively pursued Free Trade Agreements (FTAs), most recently with the UAE and Australia. These agreements are expected to reduce tariff barriers and enhance market access for Indian plastic products, particularly in categories such as flexible packaging, moulded housewares, construction plastics, and consumer electronics enclosures. Additionally, Ministry of Commerce and Industry has encouraged the sector to adopt international quality and sustainability standards, enabling Indian manufacturers to be more competitive in regulated and premium markets.

Market Segmentation analysis

India's plastic moulding industry caters to a wide array of end-use sectors, with the furniture, home appliances, and automotive industries forming the three most significant segments in terms of both volume and value. These sectors drive the bulk of domestic demand for moulded plastic components, and each presents unique market characteristics and growth trajectories.

- Furniture Sector - The furniture sector in India has witnessed a transformative shift with the increasing adoption of plastic moulded products. Items such as modular chairs, ergonomic desks, institutional benches, and storage units are now commonly used across households, educational institutions, offices, and commercial establishments. These products are particularly valued for their durability, lightweight nature, affordability, and ease of maintenance, making them highly suitable for mass deployment and modular interior solutions. A key driver of growth in this segment is the increasing pace of urbanization, accompanied by rising disposable incomes and the proliferation of institutional buyers including schools, hospitals, and corporate offices.
- Home appliances sector- In the home appliances sector, plastic components are indispensable for both functional and aesthetic purposes. Moulded plastics are widely used in the manufacture of internal and external parts of appliances such as washing machines, refrigerators, fans, air coolers, and a variety of kitchen gadgets. These components not only reduce the overall weight of appliances but also offer greater design flexibility, resistance to corrosion, and cost-efficiency in manufacturing. Although detailed India-specific figures on plastic consumption in home appliances are scarce in official government records, global market trends provide a strong indication of scale. The Indian government's Production Linked Incentive (PLI) scheme for white goods, along with the establishment of electronics manufacturing clusters under the Ministry of Electronics and Information Technology (MeitY), is further boosting domestic appliance production. This, in turn, is driving the demand for moulded plastic components, reinforcing the critical role that plastic moulding plays in the appliance manufacturing value chain.
- Automotive Sector: Plastic moulded parts are integral to the automotive industry, used in interior trims, bumpers, lighting housings, and dashboards. The Indian auto component industry achieved its highest-ever turnover of US$ 69.7 billion in FY 2022-23, growing by 33% from the previous year. This growth reflects the increasing adoption of plastic components in vehicles to enhance fuel efficiency and reduce weight.

Market Sub-segments

By Process

- Injection Moulding - Injection moulding stands out as the most widely used process, especially for producing intricate, detailed, and high-volume plastic components. This technique involves injecting molten plastic into a mould cavity, allowing the creation of complex shapes with high precision and consistency. Injection moulding serves as the backbone of the plastic manufacturing sector due to its versatility and efficiency. It is extensively utilized across multiple industries such as automotive, where it produces parts like interior trims and dashboards; electronics, for manufacturing casings and connectors; and consumer goods, including household items and toys. The ability to produce large quantities rapidly while maintaining quality makes injection moulding indispensable.

- Blow Moulding - Blow moulding, on the other hand, specializes in the production of hollow plastic items, most commonly bottles and containers. This process involves inflating heated plastic inside a mould to form the desired hollow shape. Blow moulding holds significant importance in the packaging industry, which demands lightweight, durable, and cost-effective containers for beverages, cosmetics, pharmaceuticals, and other liquid or granular products. Its capacity to efficiently produce uniform and lightweight hollow products on a large scale has cemented its role in the packaging supply chain.
- Rotational Moulding - Rotational moulding is another distinct process, typically used for manufacturing large, hollow, and seamless plastic products. Unlike injection or blow moulding, rotational moulding involves placing powdered plastic into a mould that is then rotated slowly around two perpendicular axes while heated. This causes the plastic to evenly coat the interior of the mould, forming a hollow shape once cooled. This process is particularly favoured for producing sizable items such as water tanks, playground equipment, and storage containers. Rotational moulding offers excellent design flexibility, allowing for complex shapes and varying wall thicknesses without requiring expensive tooling changes. Additionally, it is cost-effective for low-volume production runs, making it ideal for customized or niche products where traditional high-volume methods would be uneconomical.
- Thermoforming - Thermoforming is a plastic moulding process that involves heating a plastic sheet until it becomes pliable, then shaping it over a mould using vacuum, pressure, or mechanical force. Once the plastic sheet takes the shape of the mould, it is cooled and trimmed to produce the final component. This process is especially well-suited for producing lightweight, large-area parts with relatively simple geometries. Thermoforming is widely used to manufacture panels, trays, and covers for devices such as refrigerators, microwave ovens, air conditioners, and water dispensers. In the furniture industry, thermoforming is employed for producing laminated surface panels and decorative plastic overlays used on desks, cabinets, and modular furniture systems.

By Resin Type

- Polypropylene (PP) - Polypropylene (PP) is one of the most versatile and widely used polymers in India's plastic moulding industry. It is a lightweight, semi-crystalline thermoplastic known for its excellent chemical resistance, good fatigue endurance, and notable impact strength. These properties make it suitable for a wide range of industrial and consumer applications. PP is especially valued for its high tensile strength, moisture resistance, and affordability, which have contributed to its widespread adoption across multiple manufacturing sectors.
- Acrylonitrile Butadiene Styrene (ABS) - Acrylonitrile Butadiene Styrene (ABS) is an amorphous polymer known for its high impact resistance, good surface finish, and ease of moulding. It offers toughness, dimensional stability, a glossy appearance, and a strong strength-to-weight ratio. ABS is commonly used in the automotive industry for dashboards, trims, and mirror housings; in consumer electronics for TV shells, mobile casings, and keyboards; and in home appliances for parts like vacuum cleaner components and mixer grinder housings. Its combination of aesthetic appeal and mechanical strength makes it highly valuable across electronics, automotive, and appliance sectors.
- High-Density Polyethylene (HDPE) - It is a strong, dense, and rigid thermoplastic known for its high impact resistance. It offers excellent UV and chemical resistance, is recyclable, and is safe for food contact. HDPE is widely used in packaging applications such as bottles, containers, and milk jugs; industrial uses like pipes, drums, and chemical tanks; and furniture components including structural parts and stools. Its toughness and durability make it a key material in infrastructure, packaging, and agricultural industries.

By End Use

- OEM Supply (Original Equipment Manufacturer) - OEM supply involves manufacturing and delivering plastic components directly to original equipment manufacturers for use in their final products. These parts are made to strict custom specifications, ensuring high quality, dimensional accuracy, and consistency to meet assembly line demands. Typically produced in large volumes under long-term contracts, OEM components are essential in industries like automotive (dashboards, bumpers), home appliances (housings, panels), and furniture (modular parts). This segment is crucial as it integrates plastic parts into high value finished goods, drives innovation in moulding processes, and demands adherence to stringent quality and regulatory standards.
- Aftermarket Products - Aftermarket products are plastic components made for replacing, repairing, or enhancing existing items and are sold independently of the original manufacturers. They vary in quality, ranging from OEM-equivalent parts to more affordable alternatives, and are often produced in smaller, customized batches. Aftermarket parts offer design and material flexibility to meet diverse repair needs and are distributed through retailers, distributors, or repair services. Common applications include automotive replacement parts, home appliance spares, and furniture fittings. This segment is important as it extends product lifecycles, promotes sustainability by enabling reuse, and provides cost-effective options for consumers beyond OEM offerings.

5. Market Dynamics

5.1 Key Growth Drivers

India's plastic moulding sector is undergoing transformative growth, propelled by technological advancements, material innovation, policy support, and evolving industry demands. Below is a detailed analysis of the key growth drivers:

- Innovation in Plastic Materials with Focus on Recyclability and Biodegradability - The shift towards sustainable manufacturing is a major driver in the plastic components industry. The Ministry of Environment, Forest and Climate Change has enforced policies such as the Plastic Waste Management (Amendment) Rules, 2022 and the Extended Producer Responsibility (EPR) framework, encouraging manufacturers to adopt recyclable and biodegradable materials. This has spurred investment in bio-based polymers, compostable plastics, and recycled-grade resins, aligning with global sustainability goals and enhancing industry credibility. Companies are increasingly embedding eco-design and circularity into their production models to meet both regulatory mandates and consumer expectations.
- Rising Demand for Lightweight and Cost-Effective Components across Industries – It is reflecting robust demand from downstream sectors. Industries such as automotive, appliances, furniture, and consumer electronics increasingly prefer plastic components over metal counterparts due to their weight reduction, corrosion resistance, and cost efficiency. In the automotive sector, lightweight plastic parts contribute directly to improved fuel efficiency and are crucial for electric vehicle (EV) design.
- Growth in Urbanization and Modular Furniture Demand - Urban expansion and housing development have led to increased demand for space-saving, modular, and affordable plastic furniture. The furniture segment extensively uses injection-moulded plastic for items like chairs, tables, and storage units. Government initiatives such as Smart Cities Mission and affordable housing programs have created demand for low-maintenance, durable furnishings, benefiting the domestic plastic moulding ecosystem. Institutional buyers, including schools and public offices, also prefer plastic components for their longevity and ease of cleaning.
- Acceleration of Domestic Manufacturing and Import Substitution - India's push for self-reliance through the "Make in India" and Atmanirbhar Bharat initiatives has invigorated the plastic component manufacturing landscape. By incentivizing local production and discouraging imports, especially in electronics, white goods, and automotive sectors, the government is fostering capacity building.

Production Linked Incentive (PLI) schemes in white goods and auto components are driving OEMs to source locally, creating opportunities for plastic moulders as strategic suppliers.

- Government Push for Circular Economy and Recycling Infrastructure - The Indian government's focus on developing a circular economy in plastics is reinforcing long-term sustainability. Institutions like NITI Aayog have laid out frameworks to promote recycling ecosystems, waste segregation, and closed-loop material recovery. The implementation of EPR mandates, along with incentives for recyclers and processed plastic usage in manufacturing, is transforming waste into economic value. Manufacturers incorporating recycled plastic in their product lines gain both compliance benefits and green market positioning.

5.2 Challenges

Despite its rapid growth and widespread application, the plastic moulding industry in India faces several pressing challenges that could hinder its long-term sustainability and global competitiveness.

- Volatility in Raw Material Prices - One of the foremost challenges for plastic manufacturers is the fluctuation in prices of raw materials, particularly polymer resins like Polypropylene (PP), Polyethylene (PE), PVC, and ABS. These resins are largely derived from petroleum-based feedstocks, making their prices heavily dependent on global crude oil market dynamics. Geopolitical tensions, supply chain disruptions (such as those experienced during the COVID-19 pandemic and the Russia-Ukraine conflict), and currency fluctuations have led to unpredictable resin price trends. This volatility affects manufacturers' ability to plan, price, and maintain profitability. As per data from the Petroleum Planning & Analysis Cell (PPAC) under the Ministry of Petroleum & Natural Gas, import dependency for petrochemicals remains significant, further exacerbating the issue for domestic processors.
- Environmental Concerns and Regulatory Pressure - The environmental impact of plastic waste has become a critical global issue, and India is no exception. Improper disposal, non-biodegradability, and the prevalence of single-use plastics have drawn increasing scrutiny from environmental authorities and civil society. In response, the Government of India has enacted stringent regulations, including the Plastic Waste Management (Amendment) Rules, 2022, which prohibit several single-use plastic items and enforce Extended Producer Responsibility (EPR) mandates. These regulations require manufacturers to ensure collection, recycling, or safe disposal of the plastic products they introduce into the market. While necessary for environmental sustainability, these rules impose compliance costs, operational restructuring, and investment in recycling infrastructure, especially challenging for small and medium-scale moulders.
- Need for Technological Advancements in Moulding Processes - Another significant challenge is the limited adoption of advanced technologies in plastic moulding, particularly among small and medium enterprises (SMEs), which make up a large portion of the industry. Traditional moulding setups often suffer from inefficiencies such as longer cycle times, high energy consumption, and inconsistent product quality. There is a growing need for modernisation of machinery, including automation, Industry 4.0 integration (real-time data monitoring and AI-driven quality control), and energy-efficient moulding systems. Upgrading to high-precision technologies like multi-cavity injection moulding, gas-assisted moulding, and robotic part handling can greatly improve productivity and competitiveness but require substantial capital investment and skilled workforce. Support from institutions like CIPET (Central Institute of Petrochemicals Engineering and Technology) and access to government-led technology upgradation schemes are crucial, yet the reach of these programs remains uneven across India.
- Inadequate Skilled Workforce and Training Infrastructure - Despite India's large labour pool, the plastic moulding industry faces a significant shortage of skilled machine operators, toolmakers, and material technologists. Many technical institutes lack specialized curricula in advanced plastic processing. While institutes like CIPET (Central Institute of Petrochemicals Engineering & Technology) are working to bridge the gap, their reach is limited relative to the scale of the industry. Without skilled manpower, technology adoption and process innovation remain slow, especially among regional SMEs.

- Inconsistent Quality Standards and Lack of Certification - Quality inconsistencies in raw materials and finished products remain a barrier to accessing high-value export markets. Many smaller players operate without BIS (Bureau of Indian Standards) certification or ISO quality systems. This affects not only product reliability but also erodes customer confidence, particularly in sectors like automotive and electronics where precision and safety are critical. Lack of standardized testing infrastructure across industrial clusters adds to the challenge.

6. Government Initiatives and Policy Support

India's plastic manufacturing sector is undergoing significant transformation, driven by strategic policy interventions aimed at enhancing domestic production, ensuring quality standards, promoting environmental sustainability, and fostering regional industrial development. Below is an in-depth analysis of the major government initiatives:

1. Production Linked Incentive (PLI) Schemes the Government of India has introduced the Production Linked Incentive (PLI) schemes to bolster domestic manufacturing across various sectors, including white goods and automotive components, which are significant consumers of plastic parts.  - White Goods Sector: In January 2025, the Ministry of Commerce & Industry announced the selection of 24 companies under the PLI Scheme for White Goods (Air Conditioners and LED Lights), with a committed investment of Rs. 3,516 crore in the third round. These investments are expected to significantly boost the production of components, including plastic parts, across India. (Source – PIB)
2. Bureau of Indian Standards (BIS) Certification - The Bureau of Indian Standards (BIS) plays a crucial role in ensuring the quality and safety of plastic products through its certification schemes. Compulsory Certification, While BIS certification is generally voluntary, the Central Government mandates compliance for certain products under various considerations such as public interest and environmental safety. This includes specific plastic products where adherence to Indian Standards is compulsory. BIS has established standards like IS 14534:2016, which provides guidelines for the recovery and recycling of plastic waste, covering classification, identification, and processing steps. This standard aids manufacturers in adopting sustainable practices in plastic waste management.
3. Plastic Waste Management Rules - To address environmental concerns associated with plastic waste, the Ministry of Environment, Forest and Climate Change has implemented the Plastic Waste Management (Amendment) Rules, 2024. (Source – PIB)
 - Extended Producer Responsibility (EPR): The rules emphasize the responsibility of producers, importers, and brand owners to ensure the environmentally sound management of plastic waste, including its collection, recycling, and disposal.
 - Prohibition of Certain Plastics: The rules also include provisions for the prohibition of specific single-use plastic items, promoting the use of biodegradable and recyclable alternatives in manufacturing processes.
 - State-Level Industrial Parks and Cluster Development Schemes - To promote regional industrial growth and support small and medium enterprises (SMEs) in the plastic sector, the government has initiated the development of industrial parks and clusters.
 - Plastic Parks Scheme: Under this scheme, the government provides common infrastructure facilities for industrial units, including effluent treatment plants, waste management systems, and recycling facilities. Some plastic parks have established in-house recycling sheds to facilitate the recycling of plastic waste, promoting sustainability within the industry.
 - MSME Cluster Development: The Ministry of Micro, Small and Medium Enterprises (MSME) supports the development of clusters to enhance the productivity and competitiveness of SMEs. These clusters provide shared facilities, technology support, and training programs to foster growth in the plastic manufacturing sector.
4. The Plastic Export Promotion Council (PLEXCONCIL) - PLEXCONCIL was established by the Ministry of Commerce and Industry in 1955. The main objective of this non-profit organization is to highlight India as a reliable supplier of high-quality products. PLEXCONCIL is the apex body of the plastics industry in the country and represents more than 2,500 exporters who manufacture and trade plastics products ranging from plastic raw materials to semi-finished and finished items.

Budget 2025-26 Highlights

Key Initiatives and Allocations:

- National Manufacturing Mission – Supporting Plastic and Allied Industries - Plastic product manufacturers—particularly MSMEs—often lack access to modern equipment such as energy-efficient moulding machines, robotic arms, and automated assembly lines. The mission is designed to support investments in advanced manufacturing infrastructure, helping firms transition to Industry 4.0 standards. The plastic moulding industry relies heavily on high-precision dies and tools. The mission’s allocation for common facility centres and upgraded tool rooms will reduce reliance on imports and cut production lead times.
- Centres of Excellence (CoE) - To promote the research and development in polymer and plastics the department has established 13 Centres of Excellence in various national level institutes. These CoEs focus on various aspects such as sustainable polymers, advanced polymeric materials, bio-engineered systems, and process development for wastewater management in petrochemical industries. They aim to drive innovation, improve technology, and promote environmentally sustainable development within the sector.
- Skilling of Workforce: Central Institute of Petrochemical Engineering and Technology- It is conducting many short term and long-term courses in Plastics processing and Technology to cater to the skilling requirement of the industry.\
- The Hazardous Waste Management Rules seek to ensure proper disposal of hazardous chemicals and promote waste minimization and resource recovery.
- Circular Economy - The Government promotes the adoption of circular economy principles in the plastic industry, including recycling and the use of biodegradable alternatives. To promote the latest technologies and products for circular economy, the Department supports and encourages industry in organizing discussions and exhibitions to showcase the latest technologies and machinery for waste management, recycling and up-cycling as well as the innovative products made from recycled material.
- India engages with international organizations such as the World Trade Organization (WTO) and the United Nations Environment Programme (UNEP) to enable compliance with global sustainability standards. Further, India actively participates in meetings of the International Organization for Standardization (ISO) which formulates international standards for plastic products.

7. Technology and Digital Transformation

The plastic moulding industry in India is undergoing a significant shift as manufacturers adopt advanced technologies to improve efficiency, precision, and competitiveness. Below is a detailed look at the three key areas of technological innovation:

- Automation in Moulding Machines - Automation in plastic injection and blow moulding machines is revolutionizing the way components are produced. Traditionally labour-intensive, moulding operations are now increasingly adopting servo-controlled machines, robotic arms, and programmable logic controllers (PLCs) to streamline processes. Automated machines maintain uniform pressure, temperature, and cycle timing, resulting in consistent product quality and minimal defects. Automation allows continuous production with minimal human intervention, significantly increasing output. Real-time monitoring and feedback systems ensure optimal material usage and reduce scrap rates. Servo-electric machines consume less power compared to older hydraulic systems, contributing to both cost savings and sustainability. Modern electric injection moulding machines equipped with automatic part pickers and Mold-change systems are widely used in automotive plastic parts, consumer electronics, and appliance housings.
- CAD/CAM for Die and Mould Design - Computer-Aided Design (CAD) and Computer-Aided Manufacturing (CAM) technologies play a critical role in the development of high-precision dies and moulds used in plastic component production. CAD software enables the creation of detailed 3D models of components, ensuring accurate dimensions and structural integrity. Its tools allow quick design iterations and simulation of part behaviour under operational conditions before mould creation. CAM software generates efficient CNC machining paths, reducing tool wear and shortening die-making time. These systems enable seamless collaboration between product design and tooling departments, reducing errors and development time.

- Use of Industry 4.0 and IoT for Smart Manufacturing - The Fourth Industrial Revolution, or Industry 4.0, brings digital transformation to the plastic manufacturing floor through Internet of Things (IoT) devices, cloud connectivity, and data analytics. Sensors embedded in machines collect data on temperature, pressure, cycle time, and material feed, enabling real-time process optimization. IoT analytics detect early signs of wear or malfunction, allowing timely maintenance and reducing unplanned downtime. Smart systems track each component through its production cycle, improving quality control and recall management. Operators and managers can monitor machine performance and production metrics remotely via dashboards or mobile apps. Factories adopting Industry 4.0 integrate ERP (Enterprise Resource Planning), MES (Manufacturing Execution Systems), and IIoT (Industrial IoT) platforms for smart, connected manufacturing—critical for high-volume sectors like automotive, medical devices, and export packaging.

9.2 Competitive Strategies

The Plastic Moulding Industry in India and globally remains highly competitive, with manufacturers deploying multifaceted strategies to differentiate their offerings, optimize operations, and align with evolving customer demands across sectors like automotive, packaging, electronics, and consumer goods. Leading firms excel by focusing on the following key strategic levers:

- Product & Service Diversification - Leading moulders expand beyond basic injection or blow moulded components to offer integrated solutions—including part design, prototype development, over-moulding, assembly, and value-added finishing (painting, plating, texturing, etc.). This full-service approach helps clients streamline procurement, reduce supplier count, and secure long-term contracts.
- Sector-Specific Customization - Given distinct requirements—such as regulatory standards in medical-grade components, precision tolerances for electronics, and stringent safety in automotive—top manufacturers tailor materials, process parameters, and quality systems accordingly. This sector-focused specialization strengthens client relationships and creates higher entry barriers for competitors.

- Advanced Technology Adoption - Players invest in cutting-edge tools: multi-cavity and precision moulds, automation and robotics for material handling, Industry 4.0 solutions (real-time monitoring, SPC/Dashboard), and additive manufacturing for rapid prototyping. These technologies enhance cycle times, reduce defects, and enable customized, low-volume production.
- Flexible & Outcome-Based Contracting - Manufacturers move beyond standard per-part pricing to performance- or outcome-based contracts tied to quality (PPM), delivery compliance, and lifecycle support. Hybrid models that combine outsourced moulding with in-house post-processing or just-in-time (JIT) delivery help clients optimize inventory and reduce capex.

9.3 Barriers to Entry

While the plastic Moulding sector in India presents strong growth opportunities across industrial segments like furniture, appliances, and automobiles, it is equally marked by substantial entry barriers. These barriers stem from high capital requirements, stringent quality expectations, regulatory compliance, and entrenched competition. For new entrants—especially MSMEs and startups—these hurdles can significantly delay scalability, limit innovation, and make market penetration challenging. Key barriers include:

1. High Initial Capital Investment - Entering the plastic moulding and components space requires large upfront costs across:
 - Machinery & Tooling: Injection and blow moulding machines, robotic arms, and dies can cost Rs. 50 lakh to several crores depending on size and complexity.
 - Infrastructure: Setting up compliant production units with power, water, ETPs, and resin storage adds significantly to capital needs.
 - Product Development: Creating and validating moulds, especially for precision components used in automotive and appliances, can take months and large design investments.
2. Complex Regulatory Approvals and Compliance Requirements - The industry is governed by overlapping rules:
 - Plastic Waste Management Rules (2024) and EPR mandates require waste collection, documentation, and material tracking.
 - Factory Act, labour laws, fire safety, and pollution control norms vary across states and must be complied with from day one.
 - Quality certifications such as BIS, ISO 9001, IATF 16949, and product-specific standards are often mandatory to work with OEMs.
3. Raw Material Volatility and Resin Dependency
 - Plastic resin prices (PP, HDPE, ABS, PVC) are globally linked to crude oil prices and subject to import duties.
 - India imports a significant portion of specialty engineering plastics and additives.
 - Price swings of $\pm 15\text{--}20\%$ within months are common, especially for OEM-linked suppliers locked into contracts.
4. Technological Gaps and Skilled Manpower Shortage
 - Industry is shifting toward smart moulding (Industry 4.0), CAD/CAM-based die design, and robotic automation.
 - There is a national shortage of trained mould designers, process engineers, and CNC tool makers.
 - Institutes like CIPET exist, but their reach is limited, and retaining trained staff remains a challenge.
5. Customer Acquisition & OEM Entry Barriers

- Long vendor approval cycles, trial orders, and audits delay onboarding with appliance and auto OEMs.
- OEMs demand high volume consistency, cost stability, and technical documentation, all of which are difficult for new players to provide upfront.
- In B2B markets, trust and past performance weigh more than price.

6. Competitive Pricing Pressure and Tender-Based Procurement

- In price-sensitive markets (like chairs, coolers, or dashboard covers), lowest bid often wins.
- Established players enjoy economies of scale, in-house tooling, and long-term supplier rates—making it hard for newcomers to compete.
- Public and institutional procurement is tender-based, creating an environment where margins are razor-thin.

7. Supply Chain and Logistics Complexity

- Efficient logistics are critical due to the bulky nature of plastic goods, especially furniture or appliance housings.
- Delays in resin delivery or power outages impact just-in-time (JIT) deliveries to OEMs.
- With the lack of local tool rooms in many states, tooling often needs to be sourced from distant hubs (e.g., Gujarat, Maharashtra), increasing lead time.

9.4 Consolidation Trends

India's plastic moulding industry—serving critical sectors like furniture, home appliances, automotive, and packaging—is undergoing structural transformation driven by mergers & acquisitions, policy incentives, vertical integration, and ESG compliance. Consolidation has emerged as a key trend, catalysed by government schemes and market competitiveness. Below is a detailed analysis:

- M&A Activity in Tier-II & Tier-III Component Manufacturers –Domestic companies in plastic component manufacturing (especially injection moulded furniture and appliance housing units) have been acquiring smaller regional firms to scale up capacity and qualify for government incentives such as MSME Udyam and Credit Linked Capital Subsidy Scheme (CLCSS).
- Nilkamal and Supreme Industries Expansion- Though not government-led M&A, leading players like Nilkamal Ltd. and Supreme Industries have expanded aggressively into organized modular furniture and automotive subcomponents, establishing exclusive plastic moulding units with backward integration of recycled plastics.
- Motherson Group's Component Consolidation-The Motherson Group, under government-supported export and auto-component manufacturing schemes, has consolidated multiple plastic component entities globally and in India, to align with PLI incentive structures. Their investments target the production of bumpers, dashboards, and HVAC components with high plastic content.
- Private Equity (PE) Investments in Plastic Moulding SMEs - Riding on the fiscal predictability offered by PLI and Atmanirbhar Bharat schemes, PE firms are increasingly funding SMEs in the plastic moulding ecosystem. These include vendors supplying parts to LG, Whirlpool, Maruti Suzuki, and other OEMs. Such investments have resulted in the merging of smaller, often family-run units into formal, high-capacity entities capable of meeting compliance, quality, and volume expectations.

- Recycled Plastic Integration-Driven M&A - The government's emphasis on a circular economy and EPR compliance, especially highlighted in the Union Budget 2025–26, has pushed virgin plastic processors to acquire post-consumer recycling companies. OEM suppliers in FMCG, electronics, and automotive sectors are consolidating supply chains by vertically integrating recyclers to ensure a steady feedstock of sustainable materials and meet ESG mandates.

These consolidation trends underscore a broader shift in the plastic moulding industry—from fragmented, regional production towards organized, integrated manufacturing ecosystems. Government policies like PLI, environmental regulations, and industrial clustering are accelerating this transition, paving the way for a more resilient, compliant, and globally competitive plastic components sector.

Back Frame	The back frame of a chair is the structural component that provides support and stability to the backrest. It is essentially the "skeleton" of the chair's upper portion, connecting the backrest to the seat and legs. the back frame is often engineered to be adjustable or to conform to the natural curvature of the spine, promoting good posture and comfort. It is a critical element that directly influences the user's seating experience, from basic support to advanced ergonomic features.
Star Base	A star base on a chair is the foundational component that provides stability and support. These bases are crucial for revolving or swivel chairs, particularly in office and gaming settings, as they allow for 360-degree rotation. They are often equipped with casters (wheels) on the end of each arm, enabling easy mobility.

Product Name	Description	Image
1D Arm	A 1D arm assembly on a chair is a type of armrest that can be adjusted in one dimension: vertically (up and down). This feature allows the user to raise or lower the armrest to their preferred height, which helps to align the arms and shoulders in a comfortable, ergonomic position. The adjustment is typically made using a button or lever located on the side of the armrest support.
3D Arm	A 3D arm assembly in a chair is an ergonomic feature that allows the armrests to be adjusted in three dimensions: up/down (height), forward/backward (depth), and side-to-side (width or swivel). This multi-directional movement provides a high degree of customization, enabling users to position their arms and shoulders in a comfortable and supportive posture.
4D Arm	A 4D armrest on a chair is a highly adjustable arm support system that moves in four distinct directions. These directions are: Height: Up and down to align with desk height and user's elbows. Width: In and out to accommodate different body types and shoulder widths. Depth (Forward/Backward): To support the forearms properly, whether sitting back or leaning forward. Pivot/Angle: Swiveling left or right to support the arms at various angles, such as when typing or using a mouse. This level of customization allows the user to achieve a precise ergonomic fit, reducing strain on the shoulders, neck, and wrists, and promoting better posture during prolonged sitting.
Navi Flipper	Flippers, also known as flip-up covers or pop-up lids, are a type of enclosure used for electrical sockets and switches, particularly on office desks. They are designed to provide a clean, uncluttered look while keeping power and data ports easily accessible when needed.

Product Name	Description	Image
Head Rest	A headrest assembly on a chair is a component designed to provide support for the head and neck. It is a crucial part of an ergonomic chair, as it helps to maintain proper posture by supporting the natural curve of the cervical spine. OUR BUSINESS STRATEGIES

Sourcing Strategy

Our Company intends to adopt a comprehensive approach to supply chain management to enhance stability and efficiency. We plan to implement a multi-sourcing strategy to reduce dependence on single suppliers and mitigate risks, with clearly identified primary and secondary sources for critical materials. Wherever feasible, we aim to prioritize local suppliers to lower lead times and transportation costs while supporting the local economy. Additionally, we will pursue strategic alliances with key suppliers to secure long-term supply, access innovations, and achieve potential cost efficiencies. A structured supplier evaluation and selection process, based on quality, price, reliability, financial stability, technical capability, and sustainability practices, will further strengthen the resilience of our supply chain.

Pricing and Negotiation Strategy

Our Company intends to adopt a structured approach to pricing and negotiation to optimize procurement costs and strengthen supplier relationships. We plan to use competitive bidding through RFQs to obtain the most favourable prices for standard materials and bought-out parts. Skilled negotiators will be employed to secure advantageous terms, including pricing, payment schedules, delivery timelines, and quality requirements. We will conduct thorough cost analyses to identify key cost drivers and explore opportunities for cost reduction. Volume discounts will be negotiated based on forecasted demand and order quantities, while long-term contracts with key suppliers will be leveraged to stabilize pricing and ensure reliable supply. Additionally, we aim to collaborate with suppliers on value engineering initiatives to reduce costs without compromising quality.

Quality Management Strategy

Our Company intends to implement a robust quality management strategy to ensure that all materials and components meet defined standards. We will clearly define quality specifications for all raw materials and bought-out parts and conduct regular supplier quality audits to ensure compliance. A thorough incoming quality inspection process will be established to verify that materials meet the required standards. We plan to work closely with suppliers to enhance their quality performance through feedback, training, and collaborative problem-solving. Additionally, we will prioritize suppliers with relevant certifications, such as ISO 9001, to ensure adherence to recognized quality management systems.

Inventory Management Strategy

Our Company intends to use demand forecasting techniques to estimate material requirements and manage inventory levels efficiently. Inventory control methods, such as Just-in-Time or Economic Order Quantity, will be applied to balance costs and supply. Appropriate safety stock levels will be maintained for critical materials to manage potential supply disruptions or unexpected changes in demand.

Supply Chain Risk Management Strategy

Our Company intends to identify potential risks in the supply chain, including supplier disruptions, price volatility, geopolitical events, and natural disasters. Each identified risk will be assessed in terms of likelihood and potential impact. To mitigate these risks, the Company plans to diversify its supplier base, monitor supplier performance and financial stability, and maintain clear communication channels with suppliers.

OUR MANUFACTURING PROCESS

PLASTIC INJECTION MOULDING & ASSEMBLY

A brief explanation on the manufacturing process is mentioned herein below:

1. Receipt of Bought-Out Parts and Raw Materials: All incoming raw materials, primarily thermoplastic granules (such as Polypropylene, ABS, Nylon, or Polycarbonate), and bought-out parts like fasteners, hinges, or foam components, are received at the factory gate. Upon arrival, each consignment is logged into the ERP system with critical details like supplier name, delivery note, batch number, material code, and received quantity. The material is then sent for quality inspection before acceptance

2. Inspection of Bought-Out Parts and Raw Materials: The Quality Assurance (QA) team inspects all received materials to ensure conformity with specifications. Tests include visual checks for contamination, physical damage, granule size and uniformity, and moisture content for hygroscopic materials. For Bought-Out Parts, dimensional and visual inspections are carried out. Materials that pass inspection are tagged as 'Approved' and moved to stores; rejected materials are tagged 'Hold' and stored separately for return or further analysis.
3. Storage of Bought-Out Parts and Raw Materials: Approved raw materials and bought-out parts are stored in a clean, dry, and well-organized warehouse. Materials are segregated by type and grade, with proper labelling for easy traceability. Hygroscopic materials are stored in sealed containers or under dehumidifiers to prevent moisture absorption. FIFO (First in First Out) methodology is strictly followed to maintain stock freshness and traceability.
4. Material Feeding to Injection Moulding Machine: Based on daily production planning, materials are issued from stores to the moulding shop floor. Plastic granules are transferred manually or through central conveying systems to the respective injection moulding machines. Bought-out parts are moved to designated assembly areas along with the work order for the day.
5. Mixing of Raw Material with Masterbatch: Colour masterbatch or additives are mixed with the base polymer before feeding into the hopper. This process is done using precise dosing systems to ensure consistency in colour and properties. Proper blending is crucial to avoid streaks, patchiness, or other aesthetic and structural defects in moulded parts
6. Preheating Process: Moisture-sensitive materials (like Nylon or Polycarbonate) undergo a pre-drying or preheating process using hot air dryers or dehumidifier dryers. This step ensures the removal of moisture content that could otherwise lead to surface defects, bubbles, or brittleness in finished parts.
7. Injection Moulding Process: The dried and blended material is melted and injected into the mould cavity using automated injection moulding machines. Critical process parameters like injection pressure, holding pressure, barrel temperature, and cooling time are controlled and monitored. Each cycle produces a moulded part that is ejected automatically or semi-automatically.
8. Degating and Deflashing of Parts: Post-moulding, parts are trimmed to remove excess material formed at the gate and flash lines. Degating can be done manually or using cutting fixtures, while deflashing may involve trimming tools or buffing methods. This ensures a clean finish, safety, and cosmetic appeal of the component.
9. First Piece Inspection (Moulding): At the start of each production batch, a First Piece Inspection (FPI) is performed. The first moulded piece is inspected for dimensions, weight, color, visual defects, and fitment. Only after FPI approval does full production begin. FPI reports are maintained for traceability.
10. In-Process Inspection (Moulding): During ongoing production, quality inspectors conduct periodic in-process checks at set intervals. Checks include dimensional accuracy, weight consistency, flash presence, warping, and overall visual quality. These inspections ensure early detection of any deviation and reduce the chances of defective parts being processed further.
11. Assembly / Ultrasonic Welding / Post-Operation: Where applicable, moulded parts are moved to assembly stations where they are combined with bought-out parts. Assembly is done using jigs, fixtures, or semi-automated tools to ensure precision and repeatability. Each assembly station follows standardized work instructions to ensure product conformity.
12. Packing and Labelling: Finished components or assemblies are cleaned, packed, and labeled according to customer specifications. Labels include details such as part number, description, batch number, quantity, and date of manufacture. Packing is done in corrugated boxes, crates, or trolleys with protective wrapping to prevent damage in transit.
13. Storage of Finished Goods: Packed products are moved to the finished goods warehouse. Goods are stored in an organized layout with clear segregation by part number and order. Digital inventory management tools help maintain stock visibility and support efficient dispatch planning.
14. Pre-Dispatch Inspection: Before any consignment is dispatched, a final quality audit is conducted. This includes verifying packing integrity, label accuracy, and sampling the finished goods for quality assurance. Only after pre-dispatch inspection clearance is the consignment moved for shipment.

15. Dispatch: Approved consignments are dispatched to the customer as per the planned delivery schedule and in trolleys or boxes. Proper documentation, including invoice, packing list, and e-way bill, accompanies each shipment. Goods are loaded carefully to avoid damage, and real-time tracking is enabled for traceability.

TOOL DEVELOPMENT PROCESS FLOW

A brief explanation on the tool development process is mentioned herein below:

1. Receipt of Customer PO

This is the formal initiation of the tool development process. The customer issues a Purchase Order (PO), confirming the project scope, quantities, and commercial terms. It serves as the official authorization to begin work and ensures that both parties are aligned on expectations before investing time, resources, and materials in the tool-making process.

2. Review of Technical Requirements

The engineering team thoroughly examines customer-provided drawings, technical specifications, and project timelines. This step ensures that all critical details—such as part geometry, tolerances, finishing requirements, and delivery dates—are clearly understood. Identifying ambiguities or potential challenges early in the process helps avoid costly delays during manufacturing and ensures the final tool meets all functional and quality standards.

3. Design Feasibility Study

A structured feasibility evaluation is carried out to determine whether the proposed tool design is practical and achievable. This involves reviewing the available manufacturing capabilities, checking if required tolerances can be maintained, assessing potential maintenance needs, and verifying compatibility with customer specifications. Any design limitations identified are addressed at this stage to prevent complications later during tool production or product use.

4. Mouldability, Risk Analysis, Material

The team evaluates how easily the part can be moulded using the chosen tool design. This involves assessing potential moulding defects, cycle time efficiency, and material behaviour under processing conditions. Risks such as warpage, shrinkage, or tool wear are identified, and the optimal material grade is confirmed for durability and performance.

5. Tool Design (2D & 3D)

Using CAD software, detailed 2D drawings and 3D models of the tool are created. These include component dimensions, assembly details, cooling channels, gating systems, and ejection mechanisms. The design aims to optimize manufacturing efficiency, ensure ease of maintenance, and deliver consistent quality in parts produced over the tool's lifecycle.

6. Design Approval from Customer

The finalized 2D and 3D designs are submitted to the customer for review and approval. The customer evaluates the design for compliance with functional requirements, aesthetics, and manufacturability. Any feedback or modification requests are incorporated into the final design. Upon approval, the team proceeds with material procurement and initiates the manufacturing phase of the tool development.

7. Procurement of Mould Steel

Once the tool design is finalized, high-quality mould steel is sourced based on the specifications, expected production volume, and required durability. Key factors such as hardness, wear resistance, and thermal conductivity of the steel are evaluated to ensure the tool can handle operational stresses and maintain dimensional accuracy throughout its service life.

8. Tool Manufacturing & Machining

This stage involves the actual fabrication of the mould using precision techniques like CNC machining, EDM (Electrical Discharge Machining), grinding, and polishing. Skilled technicians follow strict tolerances to create accurate mould cavities, cores, and inserts. Special emphasis is placed on achieving the required surface finishes and integrating efficient cooling systems to meet performance and quality standards.

9. In-process Tool Quality Checks

Quality inspections are conducted at multiple stages during manufacturing to ensure all components meet the specified standards. These checks include dimensional verification, hardness testing, and alignment validation. Early detection of deviations helps prevent defects in the final assembly, reduces rework, and ensures the tool will meet performance and longevity expectations.

10. Tool Assembly

After individual components are machined, they are assembled into a complete mould. This includes integrating inserts, ejector pins, cooling lines, and alignment features. The assembly process is carried out with precision to ensure smooth operation of moving parts and correct functionality during production trials. Proper assembly is essential for efficient tool performance and minimizing operational wear.

11. Tool Trial -T0

The first trial run, known as T0, is conducted to evaluate the initial performance of the tool. Test parts are moulded under near-production conditions to identify any issues such as incomplete filling, warpage, or flash. This stage provides critical feedback and performance data, allowing the team to make necessary refinements before full-scale production.

12. Internal Sample Evaluation

Parts produced during the T0 trial are examined by the internal quality assurance team. The evaluation includes checking for dimensional accuracy, surface finish, and overall structural integrity. Any discrepancies from the approved specifications are documented, and corrective actions are planned to ensure the tool produces parts that meet all standards.

13. Tool Corrections/ Modifications

Based on internal evaluations and/or customer feedback, targeted adjustments are made to the tool. Modifications may include altering cavity geometry, optimizing cooling channels, or refining ejection systems. These corrections aim to eliminate defects, enhance tool efficiency, and ensure reliable, high-quality part production.

14. Customer Review & Feedback

After receiving the initial sample parts, the customer reviews them against the agreed-upon specifications and provides feedback. This may involve requesting minor or significant changes to align the product with their standards. This step is crucial for ensuring mutual understanding and agreement between supplier and customer before proceeding to mass production, thereby avoiding costly changes or disruptions later.

15. Tool Trial – T1 / T2

Following any tool corrections, additional trials such as T1 and T2 are carried out to validate the modifications. These trials are designed to incrementally bring the tool closer to full compliance with quality and performance standards. The objective is to confirm that the tool operates reliably, meets cycle time targets, and consistently produces defect-free parts.

16. Dimensional Inspection & Reports

A thorough dimensional inspection is conducted on the parts produced during the T1/T2 trials. Coordinate Measuring Machines (CMM) and other precision instruments are used to verify all critical dimensions against the design specifications. A detailed inspection report is prepared to document the results, providing objective evidence of compliance and aiding in customer approval decisions.

17. Submission of Initial Samples

Initial moulded samples, along with the complete dimensional inspection report and any necessary material test certificates, are submitted to the customer for final evaluation. This package demonstrates the tool's capability to produce parts that meet all required standards and serves as the final quality checkpoint before full-scale production approval.

18. Part Approval from Customer

The customer gives formal approval after reviewing the submitted samples and documentation. This confirms that the parts meet all functional, dimensional, and aesthetic requirements. The approval marks the official transition to mass production and signifies the successful conclusion of the tool development process.

QUALITY ASSURANCE AND CONTROL

Our manufacturing facilities are supported by integrated functions, including quality assurance, quality control, regulatory affairs, supply chain and inventory management. These systems enable the production and delivery of our products while maintaining quality standards and monitoring compliance with applicable regulations.

We employ advanced quality equipment to ensure that our products meet structural and performance standards. We use machines including torsional load testing equipment, static load testers, and data loggers to ensure the strength and reliability of our products. These machines are used to check deflection under incremental load, measure the gap between components under stress, and record deflection versus applied force. Testing is carried out up to 544 kg of load to confirm that no structural failure occurs and that the product withstands defined performance standards. By employing such equipment, we maintain consistency in quality, ensure compliance with industry benchmarks, and validate the durability and safety of our components.

RAW MATERIALS

Our procurement strategy is designed to ensure a steady and cost-effective supply of raw materials and bought-out parts, while maintaining high quality and minimizing supply chain risks. We follow a multi-sourcing approach, securing critical inputs from both primary and secondary suppliers to reduce dependency and enhance reliability. Preference is given to local suppliers wherever feasible, thereby reducing lead times and logistics costs. Suppliers are evaluated on defined parameters such as quality standards, pricing, reliability, technical capability, and sustainability practices. We also adopt competitive bidding, rigorous cost analysis, and negotiate favourable terms including long-term contracts and volume discounts, where appropriate.

All incoming raw materials, primarily thermoplastic granules such as Polypropylene, ABS, Nylon, and Polycarbonate, as well as bought-out parts including fasteners, hinges, and foam components, are received at the factory gate. Each consignment is recorded in the ERP system with key details such as supplier name, delivery note, batch number, material code, and received quantity. Materials are then forwarded for quality inspection prior to acceptance into inventory. PHASED IMPLEMENTATION OF UPI FOR BIDS BY INDIVIDUAL BIDDERS AS PER THE UPI CIRCULAR

SEBI has issued the UPI Circulars in relation to streamlining the process of public issue of, among others, equity shares and convertibles. Pursuant to the UPI Circulars, the UPI Mechanism has been introduced in a phased manner as a payment mechanism (in addition to mechanism of blocking funds in the account maintained with SCSBs under the ASBA) for Bids by UPI Bidders through Designated Intermediaries with the objective to reduce the time duration from public issue closure to listing from six Working Days to up to three Working Days. Considering the time required for making necessary changes to the systems and to ensure a complete and smooth transition to the UPI payment mechanism, the UPI Circulars have introduced the UPI Mechanism in three phases in the following manner:

1. Phase I: This phase was applicable from January 01, 2019, until March 31, 2019, or floating of five main board public issues, whichever was later. Subsequently, the timeline for implementation of Phase I was extended till June 30, 2019. Under this phase, an Individual Bidder had the option to submit the ASBA Form with any of the Designated Intermediaries and use his/ her UPI ID for the purpose of blocking of funds. The time duration from public issue closure to listing continue to be six Working Days.
2. Phase II: This phase has become applicable from July 01, 2019 and was to initially continue for a period of three months or floating of five main board public issues, whichever is later. Subsequently, SEBI, vide its circular no. SEBI/HO/CFD/DIL2/CIR/P/2020/50 dated March 30, 2020 extended the timeline for implementation of UPI Phase II till further notice. Under this phase, submission of the ASBA Form by UPI Bidders through Designated Intermediaries (other than SCSBs) to SCSBs for blocking of funds has been discontinued and replaced by the UPI Mechanism. However, the time duration from public issue closure to listing continues to be six Working Days during this phase.
3. Phase III: This phase has become applicable on a voluntary basis for all issues opening on or after September 1, 2023, and on a mandatory basis for all issues opening on or after December 01, 2023, vide SEBI circular bearing number SEBI/HO/CFD/TPD1/CIR/P/2023/140 dated August 9, 2023 ("T+3 Notification”). In this phase, the time duration from public issue closure to listing has been reduced to three working days. The Issue shall be undertaken pursuant to the processes and procedures as notified in the T+3 Notification as applicable, subject to any circulars, clarifications or notification issued by the SEBI from time to time, including any circular, clarification or notification which may be issued by SEBI.

The Issue will be made under UPI Phase III of the UPI Circulars (on a mandatory basis).

The processing fees for applications made by UPI Bidders using the UPI Mechanism may be released to the SCSBs only after such banks provide a written confirmation, in compliance with the SEBI RTA Master Circular in a format as prescribed by SEBI, from time to time, and such payment of processing fees to the SCSBs shall be made in compliance with circulars prescribed by SEBI and applicable law. Accordingly, the Issue has been undertaken pursuant to the processes and procedures under UPI Phase III, subject to any circulars, clarification or notification issued by the SEBI pursuant to the T+3 Notification. The Issue will be advertised in all editions of [●] (a widely circulated English national daily newspaper), all editions of [●] (a widely circulated Hindi national daily newspaper) and Marathi editions of [●] (a widely circulated Marathi daily newspaper, Marathi being the regional language of Maharashtra, as our registered office is located in Pune), on or prior to the Bid/Issue Opening Date and such advertisement has also been made available to the Stock Exchange for the purpose of uploading on their websites.

All SCSBs offering the facility of making Bids in public issues shall also provide the facility to make Bids using UPI Mechanism. Our Company will be required to appoint one of the SCSBs as a Sponsor Bank to act as a conduit between the Stock Exchanges and NPCI in order to facilitate collection of requests and/ or payment instructions of the UPI Bidders using the UPI Mechanism.

Pursuant to the UPI Circulars, SEBI has set out specific requirements for redressal of investor grievances for Bids that have been made through the UPI Mechanism. The requirements of the UPI Circulars include, appointment of a nodal officer by the SCSB and submission of their details to SEBI, the requirement for SCSBs to send SMS alerts for the blocking and unblocking of UPI mandates, the requirement for the Registrar to submit details of cancelled, withdrawn or deleted Bids, and the requirement for the bank accounts of unsuccessful Bidders to be unblocked not later than one day from the date on which the Basis of Allotment is finalized. Failure to unblock the accounts within the timeline would result in the SCSBs being penalized under the relevant securities law. Additionally, if there is any delay in the redressal of investors' complaints in this regard, the relevant SCSB as well as the BRLM will be required to compensate the concerned investor.

Further, pursuant to SEBI circular no. SEBI/HO/CFD/DIL2/CIR/P/2022/45 dated April 05, 2022, all UPI Bidders applying in public issues, on or after May 01, 2022, where the Bid is up to Rs.5,00,000 shall use the UPI Mechanism and shall also provide their UPI ID in the Bid cum Application Form submitted with any of the entities mentioned herein below:

SEBI/HO/CFD/DIL2/CIR/P/2022/51 dated April 20, 2022, and provide a written confirmation on compliance with SEBI circular no. RESTRICTION ON FOREIGN OWNERSHIP OF INDIAN SECURITIES

Foreign investment in Indian securities is regulated through the Industrial Policy, 1991 of the Government of India and Foreign Exchange Management Act, 1999 (FEMA).

While the Industrial Policy, 1991 has prescribed the limits and the conditions subject to which foreign investment can be made in different sectors of the Indian economy, FEMA regulates the precise manner in which such investment may be made. Under the Industrial Policy, unless specifically restricted, foreign investment is freely permitted in all sectors of the Indian economy up to any extent and without any prior approvals, but the foreign investor is required to follow certain prescribed procedures for making such investment. The RBI and the concerned ministries/departments are responsible for granting approval for foreign investment. The Government of India has from time to time made policy pronouncements on foreign direct investment ("FDI") through press notes and press releases.

The Department for Promotion of Industry and Internal Trade, Ministry of Commerce and Industry, Government of India ("DIPP"), earlier known as Department of Industrial Policy and Promotion ("DPIIT") has issued the Consolidated FDI Policy Circular of 2020 ("FDI Policy") by way of circular bearing number DPIIT file number 5(2)/2020-FDI Policy dated October 15, 2020, with effect from October 15, 2020, which consolidates and supersedes all previous press notes, press releases and clarifications on FDI issued by DPIIT that were in force and effect as on October 15, 2020. The FDI Policy will be valid until the DPIIT issues an updated circular.

In terms of the FEMA NDI Rules, a person resident outside India may make investments into India, subject to certain terms and conditions, and provided that an entity of a country, which shares land border with India or the beneficial owner of an investment into India who is situated in or is a citizen of any such country, shall invest only with government approval.

The transfer of shares between an Indian resident and a non-resident does not require the prior approval of the RBI, provided that (i) the activities of the investee company are under the automatic route as per the FDI Policy and transfer does not attract the provisions of the Takeover Regulations; (ii) the non-resident shareholding is within the sectoral limits provided under the FDI Policy; and (iii) the pricing is in accordance with the guidelines prescribed by the SEBI/RBI.

Further, in accordance with Press Note No. 3 (2020 Series), dated April 17, 2020 issued by the DPIIT and the Foreign Exchange Management (Non-debt Instruments) Amendment Rules, 2020 which came into effect from April 22, 2020, any investment, subscription, purchase or sale of equity instruments by entities of a country which shares land border with India or where the beneficial owner of an investment into India is situated in or is a citizen of any such country ("Restricted Investors"), will require prior approval of the Government, as prescribed in the Consolidated FDI Policy and the FEMA Rules. Further, in the event of transfer of ownership of any existing or future FDI in an entity in India, directly or indirectly, resulting in the beneficial ownership falling within the aforesaid restriction/ purview, such subsequent change in the beneficial ownership will also require approval of the Government. Furthermore, on April 22, 2020, the Ministry of Finance, Government of India, has also made a similar amendment to the FEMA Rules. Pursuant to the Foreign Exchange Management (Non-debt Instruments) (Fourth Amendment) Rules, 2020, a multilateral bank or fund, of which India is a member, shall not be treated as an entity of a particular country nor shall any country be treated as the beneficial owner of the investments of such bank or fund in India. Each Applicant should seek independent legal advice about its ability to participate in the Issue. In the event such prior approval of the Government of India is required, and such approval has been obtained, the Applicant shall intimate our Company and the Registrar to the Issue in writing about such approval along with a copy thereof within the Issue Period.

As per the existing policy of the Government of India, OCBs cannot participate in this Issue and in accordance with the extant FDI guidelines on sectoral caps, pricing guidelines etc. as amended by Reserve bank of India, from time to time. Investors are advised to confirm their eligibility under the relevant laws before investing and / or subsequent purchase or sale transaction in the Equity Shares of our Company. Investors will not offer, sell, pledge or transfer the Equity Shares of our Company to any person who is not eligible under applicable laws, rules, regulations, guidelines. (Non-debt Instruments) Rules, 2019.
